LOW RATE OF DEATHS CHEERS NEW ORLEANS

ty-Six New Cases of Yellow Fever Were Reported Yesterday.

RY ROUTINE OF FIGHT UNDERTAKEN BY CITY

Little In the Way of Development Reported Yesterday in Stricken City, Though List of New Cases Is Anxiously Watched.

New Orleans, August 15. Official report to 6 p. m.:
New cases	66
Total to date	1,146
Deaths	4
Total deaths to date	176
New foci	19
Total foci to date	248
Cases under treatment	414

New Orleans, August 16.—With little variation in the daily record, it naturally follows that there is no material change in the situation, and none is looked for in the immediate future. There is considerable satisfaction to be drawn from the small number of deaths, because it shows two things—one that the type of the disease is not as malignant as at first supposed, and the other that the authorities are finding about every case in the city.

The generally accepted death rate is about 11 per cent. It is about a week ago that the daily record took such a jump, one day 105 cases being reported. Since then, the daily record has hovered around sixty. While eight days are usually allowed for a patient to recover or die, most of the deaths occur in the fifth and sixth day, so the fact that the deaths yesterday and today were small, indicates that all the cases are on the record now, and subjected to treatment according to the modern idea.

Dr. White said the other day that if he could be assured of having every case in the city under observation and proper treatment, he could stamp out the disease in a short time, so, evidently, the desired condition is approaching, if it has not already been attained.

There were no prominent people among the new cases, but the majority of them are among the people of comfortable circumstances. Only six of the new foci are above Canal street.

Cases Outside City.

Passed Assistant Surgeon Corput found another next of infection outside of the city today. He went to St. John parish, 30 miles above the city, on the Mississippi river, and unearthed thirty-three cases, twenty-one of which are in an entirely new focus in and around the town of La Place. He found eight more cases on Diamond plantation in St. Charles parish, and four more on Terre Haute plantation. The cases at La Place are principally among the better class of people, and it seems to be of mold type. He reports that all the houses of the poorer class of people in that section are full of stegomyia, and unless steps are taken immediately to eradicate them, the spread will get beyond control.

The state board of health has placed Dr. Corput in control of this work, and he will return there in the morning. The state board will also send a physician and nurses to the scene.

Patterson reports six new cases and no deaths. Pointe Celeste, in Plaquemine parish, reports two new cases, and probably three, among as many children, all in the same group. A case was discovered in Rayne, in the Parish of Arcadia, on the Southern Pacific railroad. Surgeon Guiteras visited Lafayette today and confirmed the diagnosis of the case there. No others have developed. Assistant Surgeon Goldberger has confirmed the suspicious case which developed in Alexandria yesterday. The patient is nearly well.

A special from Gudfport tells of the discovery of yellow fever at Mississippi City, on the gulf, and states that the disease has been there since July 18. It originated in the Harvey boarding house there, among the family of Major Gee. There have been eleven cases all told, and four persons are now under treatment. All of the other coast towns have quarantined against Mississippi City, but there is much resentment over the fact that the existence of the fever there was not discovered until today.

Fever in Mississippi City.

Mobile, Ala., August 16.—The following telegram was received this afternoon by Dr. W. H. Sanders, state health officer:

"Can not agree about case you saw, but there is a case, and several minor ones, in Mississippi City. Am trying to stamp it out.

"WASDIN."

On their visit of inspection to the Mississippi coast towns, Dr. Sanders and Dr. Mohr saw a number of cases which they believed to be suspicious at Mississippi City. They reported their discovery to Dr. Wasdin on Monday, who said he would watch them closely, and the above telegram was the result. It was on their report of the discovery of these cases that they declined to recommend the raising of the quarantine against the Mississippi coast towns to the board of health here, and the board concurred in their recommendation.

Truck Growers in Convention.

Wilmington, N. C., August 16.—The annual meeting of the East Carolina Truck and Fruit Growers' Association was held at Wrightsville Beach today. William Springer, of Wilmington, was elected president; J. S. Westbrook, of Wallace, vice president; H. T. Bauman, Wilmington, secretary and business agent; S. H. Strange, treasurer, Fayette; J. O. Carr, Wilmington, attorney.

RELAPSE COMES TO CAPT. HALL

Was Slowly Sinking This Morning.

Early in Night Physicians Were Hopeful, No Change Having Ensued for Twenty-four Hours, But Turn For Worse Came Quickly.

Danville, N. Y., August 17, 1:35 a. m.—(Special.)—At this hour, Captain Lyman Hall, president of the Georgia School of Technology, is reported to be slowly sinking, the noted educater and former army officer having suffered a relapse about midnight.

Early in the night, the physicains at his bedside felt encouraged by reason of the fact that no change had ensued in twenty-four hours, and anonunced that, while the patient was still in a very serious condition, there was a chance for his recovery.

The announcement had been given out only a short time when the turn for the worse began.

TOOK NEGRO FROM OFFICERS

Lake Cormorant, Miss., August 16.—Henry Young, the negro who shot and killed Edward E. Perry, on the Bass plantation, near Lake Cormorant, last Sunday, was taken from Sheriff Withers and a deputy tonight and at the scene of his crime hanged by an armed mob. The negro confessed his guilt, but pleaded that he did not intend to kill Perry, a pistol for the possession of which they were contending, he said, having exploded. The mob numbered about 100 men.

Young was captured this morning while fording a river to reach his father's cabin on an island. Sheriff Withers, who, with a possee of forty men, had been scouring the country for the negro, was notified of the capture and took possession of the prisoner. Hastening with the negro to the town of Tenton, where he purposed taking a train for Hernando, the county site, the sheriff was confronted at the station by the mob and before he could make an effort at resistance, was overpowered and his prisoner taken from him. The mob then proceeded to the Bass plantation with Young and hanged him to a tree.

WATERWORKS ARE COMPLETED.

Improvements in System at Washington, Ga.

Washington, Ga., August 16.—(Special.) The $30,000 improvements upon Washington system of water works, which have been under way for the past three months, were completed yesterday and the work was formally accepted by the city council today. The improvements include a splendid new pumping station on Beaverdam creek, 3 miles west of the city, and a reservoir with a capacity of 1,500,000 gallons, a new standpipe, with 200,000 gallons capacity, and several miles of new and larger water mains. The specifications provided for the completion of the work by July 1, but the contractors were retarded by adverse weather conditions. The city council did not require any forfeiture on account of the delay.

CHESTNUT DIES OF HIS WOUND.

Man Who Shot Him Sent to Lunatic Asylum.

Baxley, Ga., August 16.—A. J. Chestnut, who a few days ago shot and killed Marshal Mike Aspenwall and being pursued by the sheriff and a large number of citizens, was wounded, died this evening. Will Smith, a carpenter, of Waycross, engaged here at work on the school building, shot Chestnut with a rifle and since has become insane and is now in the asylum.

Gainesville Church Calls Pastor.

Gainesville, Ga., August 16.—(Special.) The Presbyterian church has called to its pastorate Rev. T. J. Ponder, of Prattville, Ala., and it is believed that he will accept and assume at an early date the responsibility of his new charge. He is a strong preacher and an earnest pastor, and, no doubt, the church will prosper under his pastorate. The new manse is about completed and will be ready for occupancy in a short time. Also the architect is now perfecting the plans for the new church, work on which will begin as soon as plans are accepted. Rev. Mr. Ponder has a wife and one daughter.

Good Crop in Putnam County.

Eatonton, Ga., August 16.—(Special.)—The crop conditions of this county as a whole are considered better than they have been since 1898. The few days of extremely hot weather and dry scorching east winds that prevailed the latter part of July and the excessive rains since have wrought more or less damage with cotton, but withal if the weather seasons from now on are propitious, a good crop will be harvested. The corn crop is especially good, as compared with the past few years, and with the almost certainty of getting a good price for cotton this fall the farmers are rejoicing and the business people are looking forward to a big business.

To Bring Lester Back.

Guthrie, Ky., August 16.—City Marshal Burrows has gone to Ogden, Utah, to bring back Percy J. Lester, under arrest there on the charge of murdering his wife.

FOUR COUNTIES NEAR CREATION

Tift, Jenkins, Jeff Davis and Crisp Get Through Senate.

The Only Fight on the Four New Counties Remaining is to be Made on Grady—Action Will Be Taken This Morning.

All indications point in the direction of the senate passing the eight new county bills passed by the house, namely: the bills creating the counties of Tift, Jenkins, Crisp, Jeff Davis, (formerly Cromartie), Toombs, Grady, Stephens, (formerly Bleckley) and Turner.

Indicative of this was the action of the senate yesterday in passing the bills creating the first four counties named above.

After reading a number of house and senate bills for the first and second times yesterday afternoon a heated discussion was precipitated in the senate by a resolution of Senator Wheatley providing that new county matters be taken up during the remainder of the afternoon session.

Senator Hand and Senator Crum opposed this resolution strongly on the ground that it would interfere with the regular order of business. Senator Candler, Senator Steed and Senator Wheatley urged its passage, and after a sharp debate, in which many rose to points of order, Senator Wheatley's resolution was adopted.

Four Counties Created.

The bills creating Tift, Jenkins and Jeff Davis went through without a dissenting vote, and it was only upon the creation of the county of Crisp that there was any opposition. These bills now need only the signature of the governor.

Senator Crum, who hails from the county of Dooly, from which Crisp has been created, and from the town of Cordele, the county seat of the new county, vigorously opposed the creation of Crisp in a strong speech.

Senator Crum contended that enough territory had already been carved from Dooly for the benefit of other counties, and he did not see the justice in again slicing off a large section of his county

Delay of Eleven Thousand Years.

Senator Crum had previously offered an amendment to the bill creating Crisp This amendment provided that the law creating the new county should not go into effect before nineteen thousand and six, more than eleven thousand years from now. In his opposition to the bill he addressed his remarks chiefly to this amendment.

Senator Wheatley, chairman of the new county committee, made a strong speech in favor of adopting the report of the committee, asserting that if the amendment as offered by Senator Crum was adopted by the senate it would, of course, kill the bill.

The amendment was killed by the senate and the bill was passed by a vote of 37 to 1, Senator Crum casting the only vote against the measure.

According to a resolution adopted last Saturday the new county bills are the special and continuing order of business in the senate, and consequently the remaining four bills reported favorably by the senate committee providing for the creation of new counties will be taken up after the reading of the journal this morning.

In all probability only one fight will be made. This will be conducted by Senator Hand against the creation of the county of Grady. Senator Hand has been known to be against this proposition ever since the general assembly convened. This fight will be watched with considerable interest.

Appointments.

The senate received in executive session yesterday received the following appointments of Governor Terrell:

Hon. H. R. Daniel to be solicitor of the city court of Swainesboro for the unexpired term of two years ending December 17, 1906.

Hon. A. D. Freeman to be judge of the city court of Newnan for a term of four years beginning March 21, 1906

Hon. Frank A. Irvin to be judge of the city court of Cedartown for a term of four years beginning December 20, 1905.

Hon. H. H. Swift to be solicitor of the city court of Columbus for a term of four years beginning October 17, 1905.

Hon. H. H. Chandler to be solicitor of the city court of Carnesville for a term of four years beginning October 28, 1905.

Hon. R. M. Crum to be judge of the county court of Clinch county for a term of four years beginning October 28, 1905.

Hon. R. G. Dickerson to be solicitor of the county court of Clinch county for a term of four years beginning October 28, 1905.

An Investiagtion Ordered.

Washington, August 16.—Complaints having reached the civil service commission that J. E. B. Stuart, collector of the port of Newport News, Va., has been unlawfully removing democratic employees of his office, an investigation has been ordered, and L. H. Fisher, head of the examining division of the commission embracing the state of Virginia, has been sent to Newport News to get at the facts. It is understood that the principal complaint was filed by Representative Maynard, of that district.

Was Offered to Cleveland.

Norfolk, Va., August 16.—In connection with the selection of Harry S. George Tucker for the presidency of the Jamestown exposition, which was announced yesterday, it has developed that the presidency was tendered to former President Cleveland several months ago and that he considered the offer for some time before finally making up his mind that it would be out of the question for him to accept. Mr. Cleveland will probably be chairman of the advisory board of who will be asked to serve the exposition.

Bishop Allen Says Report is Absurd.

Mobile, Ala., August 16.—(Special.)—Right Rev. Bishop Charles H. Allen's name has been considered by the diocese of Louisiana in connection with the successorship to the late Archbishop Chapelle. He was interviewed by a Constitution representative. The report is absurd, he said, and no sensible journal will notice it.

SMITH DENIES GUERRY CHARGE

Candidate Says He Did Not Promise His Support.

Between 400 and 500 Persons Heard Mr. Smith at Warrenton—Joe Hall Urged By Delegation To Speak There Tomorrow.

Warrenton, Ga., August 16.—(Special.) Hoke Smith, candidate for governor, delivered an address here today on the political issues on which he is making his race.

Mr. Smith's address was listened to attentively by an audience of between 400 and 500 people.

At the close of the speech a delegation of citizens called upon Hon. Joe Hill Hall, who is here attending court, and asked that he speak here tomorrow. Mr. Hall agreed to speak, and as there are many people in town attending court who would not have as good an opportunity to hear him later on, his audience will probably be a large one.

After being introduced by Mr. L. Massengale in a brief speech Mr. Smith began his address by saying that there were some things of a personal nature that he wanted to say before he went into the main issues he proposed to talk about.

The personal matter proved to be the telegram Hon. Dupont Guerry sent to Colonel Lowery, of Dawson, in which Mr. Guerry said that not only did Mr. Smith promise to support him, but he promised him the support of The Atlanta Journal.

Denies Guerry Telegram.

In discussing the telegram, which he denied in toto, Mr. Smith said:

"I never sent any one to Mr. Guerry with the request that he should run.

"I never gave any one my assurance that I would vote for Mr. Guerry, if Mr. Brown did not run.

"Mr. Guerry wrote and asked my support. I did not promise it.

"He wrote to Mr. Peeples, my partner, at the time and asked him to secure my support. I refused to promise it.

"I did not promise the support of The Journal. I had sold it two years before and had no control of it.

"Mr. Guerry called on me to discuss his candidacy, but then, also I gave him no promise of my support. Neither in his letter to me nor in his letter to Mr. Peeples, nor in his conversation with me, did he suggest that any one had been to him with the claim of carrying a promise of support from me. I never heard of such a suggestion until I announced for governor.

"I did not tell Mr. Guerry that Mr. Terrell was a tool and the candidate of corporations.

"I ask Mr. Guerry to name the man who claimed to bear the message from me and let that man speak for him."

Mr. Smith told his audience that he had been accused of attacking Tom Watson. He said that he did make a speech in Augusta replying to charges Mr. Watson had made against the democratic party, but that he had not been harsh in his remarks about the populist leader.

In discussing the charge that he had stolen other people's platform in his reform ideas, Mr. Smith said that he had stolen no one's platform, as his own suited him. He said that there was a bill introduced in the legislature to take railroad passes away from legislators, but that he did not want the credit for that reform measure, as his policy was to take passes away from everybody.

In discussing negro disfranchisement, Mr. Smith said that the case of Booker Washington taking Wanamaker's daughter into dinner was an evidence that at no great way in the future there would be a strong republican party in Georgia and that if the negro was not disfranchised now it would be hard to fight him later.

"I would not let Wanamaker's daughter sit at my table or would I sit at her table. It's all right if Wanamaker wants to have his daughter dine with a negro, but we must not have such things even attempted in the south."

As to Georgia.

Mr. Smith said that it was a matter of history that once the legislature of Pennsylvania had gone to the Pennsylvania Railroad Company and said that they were willing to quit business and go home if the Pennsylvania railroad had nothing else for them to do. He said that he hoped it would not, but he was afraid it would come to such a pass in Georgia.

He stated that the roads owned the state officials and that the only relief would be to overthrow them by putting a reformer in office.

A feature which aroused considerable pleasant laughter was the effort to pin small badges bearing the inscription "Hoke Smith for Governor" on everybody who came near the platform.

There were many who refused to wear the badges, and among them was Judge F. M. Harrison, who told Mr. Massengale that he did not propose to be tagged, and the Rev. Ben Ivey, who did not care to be adorned.

MRS. SANFORD TO INSURE LIVES

Report That She Has Accepted Agency for New York Company.

Rome, Ga., August 16.—(Special.)—It is reported here on seemingly good authority that Mrs. Vincent Sanford has accepted a traveling agency for a New York insurance company. Mrs. Sanford is visiting friends in Chattanooga and the report cannot be verified, but it is thought to be true. The general opinion is that she will make a great success in the field of life insurance.

NEW COTTON ON THE STREETS.

Thirty-seven Bales Received at Augusta Tuesday.

Augusta, Ga., August 16.—(Special.)—New cotton is beginning to arrive regularly in Augusta, thus demonstrating that this year's crop will be gathered and marketed early.

Yesterday thirty-seven bales of the new staple were received on the row, making a total to date of seventy-nine bales. It is also reported that the cotton is being ginned and packed throughout the territory adjacent to the city, and that it is being held for higher prices, hence the receipts of the new crop is not as large as it would otherwise be.

Last year the first bale of cotton was received on August 3. It came from south Georgia, being shipped by express from Americus. The second bale did not arrive until the 20th and was the first from Augusta's territory. This gives an idea of the early maturity of the crop in this section. All of the seventy-nine bales received to date are from the legitimate territory of the city. It is freely predicted that by September 1 the cotton season for 1905-6 will be on in earnest.

The market was very steady yesterday, futures advancing from 9 to 10 points during the day. Middling spots declined an eighth. The price is 10½. Sales and shipments were light, everybody holding for better prices. The local stock is now 7,548 bales. Total receipts to date 429,252 bales. With two weeks of the old year still to come, there is no doubt in the minds of the local factors that the total receipts will exceed 435,000 bales.

Chinese Empress Menaced.

Frankfort, August 16.—A Tientsin dispatch to The Frankfurter Zeitung says that an attempt was made on the life of the empress of China today as she was passing through the northwest gate of the city to her summer palace. Her assailant was dressed as a soldier, and was bayonetted by the guard.

TONS OF STONE MANGLE TWELVE

Horrible Accident in Pennsylvania Quarry.

Just Five Minutes Before Time to Quit Work Men Were Crushed By Fall of Limestone Which Hung Above Them.

Allentown, Pa., August 16.—A mass of limestone, weighing thousands of tons, slid from a side of the quarry of Mill A, of the Lehigh Portland Cement Company, at Ormrod, at noon today, just five minutes before time to quit work.

Twenty-seven men were at work in the quarry. Only nine of the men got away safely, four of whom escaped by running up on a mass of rock at the opposite side of the quarry. The remaining eighteen were huddled in a space 10 feet square, and twelve of them were killed and six injured. Two of the latter may die.

All of the men are Slavonians, who lived in shanties close to the quarry. Two men who saw the side of the quarry quiver shouted a warning to the men. The men misinterpreted the call and failed to move out of the zone of danger until it was too late. With a thunderous roar the mountain of rock fell, pinning the men fast.

THEY CRITICISE JAKE MOORE

Coroner's Jury at Cartersville, on Whipping of Convict.

Cartersville, Ga., August 16.—The coroner's jury which passed on the death of the negro convict, Liddell, who died after a whipping by Deputy Warden J. W. Tierce, severely criticizes Warden Jake Moore for his statement exonerating Tierce from any criminal action in connection with the whipping. The jury has put Tierce under $5,000 bond for manslaughter, and Dr. Vaughan, the camp physician, under $300 bond on account of alleged connection with the case.

The members of the jury say Warden Moore did not make much of an investigation, and they have called on him for the names of the physicians reported to have said that Liddell died of the brusting of a blood vessel. The community is much stirred up over the affair.

ONE DEAD, THE OTHER DYING.

Shooting Affray at Plant City, Florida.

Plant City, Fla., August 16.—Tonight at 9:30, J. B. Passmore, white, was shot and killed on Main street here by Night Policeman A. Elam and Elam was fatally wounded by Passmore. Passmore was drinking, it is said, and raising a disturbance, when Elam arrested him.

Passmore drew a pistol and fired, the bullet striking Elam in his shoulder. Elam seized the pistol, but Passmore, being much more powerful, shot again, striking Elam in the stomach, inflicting what will probably prove a mortal wound.

Elam managed to draw his pistol, and shot Passmore five times, the latter endeavoring to fire again until shot to death. Elam is in a critical condition from the wound in his stomach.

PEACE ENVOYS HAVE AGREED ON RAILROADS

Articles Seven and Eight Settled at Yesterday's Sessions of Conference.

ARTICLE EIGHT ACCEPTED WITHOUT ANY DISSENT

Only the Elimination of a Single Point Remains in Settlement in Article Seven—Not a Difference to Be Adjusted.

Portsmouth, N. H., August 16.—The prospects of peace are distinctly brighter tonight. The plenipotentiaries are laboring with a seriousness and earnestness, which leave not the slightest doubt that both are anxious to conclude a treaty.

Though the main points remain to be contested and the plenipotentiaries of each side speak as though the conference would go to pieces, unless the other side gives, the spirit of compromise is in the air.

When he returned to the hotel tonight. Mr. Witte, who was tired out with his hard days work, said:

"I am doing all I can do for peace. Of the eight articles we have already discussed, I have yielded seven. No other statesman in Russia would have dared do so much, and I have done what I have done upon my own responsibility."

Crisis Due on Monday.

From an authoritative source it is now possible to forecast with a fair degree of accuracy that the crisis will come on next Monday.

Articles 7 and 8, dealing with the fate of the Chinese Eastern railroad, having been disposed of today, there remains in addition to the cession of Sakhalin, which was passed over, the question of indemnity which comes up tomorrow as article 9, the limitation of Russia's sea power in the Far East, the surrender of the interned warships and the grant to Japan of fishing rights on the littoral north of Vladivostok.

To all except the latter, to which Russia will agree, a negative answer has been returned, absolutely in the case of indemnity and Sakhalin. Perhaps both the others may be modified and accepted by Mr. Witte in order to strengthen his position in insisting upon a concession from Japan regarding its demands for an indemnity and Sakhalin.

Before yielding on either of the latter, it can be regarded as practically certain that Mr. Witte would consult the emperor.

THE WEATHER.

Local Forecaster.

The exchange of views on the five remaining articles is expected to be completed on Friday or Saturday morning at the latest. The plenipotentiaries will then adjourn till Monday and the interim will probably be used by the plenipotentiaries to consult their respective governments. When they meet on Monday their last cards will be thrown upon the table. If there is to be bargaining it will come then, and suddenly the conference will be over or peace will be assured.

Articles 7 and 8 were disposed of today, the former "in principle," the latter "unanimously" according to the official bulletins. Article 7 provides for the cession to China of the branch of the Chinese Eastern railroad running south from Harbin to Port Arthur and Dalny, and with a branch line connecting at Niuchwang with the Shan-Hai-Kwan-Tien-Tsin road.

Russia Keeps Main Line.

Article 8 provides for the retention by Russia of the line through northern Manchuria, which forms the connecting link of the main line of the trans-Siberian and the Usurri railroad, with its termini at Vladivostok and Harborovsk.

From both sides the Associated Press is informed that the acceptance "in principle" of article 7 only means that certain points remain to be elaborated, not that a dispute still exists. But this may possibly be only a convenient method of postponing until the final struggle, the acceptance of an article which could be used in the ultimate compromise. Russia, by the aceeptance of these two articles in conection with articles 2, 3, 4 and 6, surrenders every vestige of her ambition in Manchuria. She closes the door to the warm weather, ice-free port of Dalny, upon which she lavished her millions, and retains only as a commercial road the link of the railroad connecting her European possesions with the maritime provinces upon the Pacific. The right to police it with Rusisan troops or railroad guards is given up, and its protection will become the duty of China.

There were persistent rumors about the hotel late tonight that several powers, including the Washington government, are bringing pressure to bear upon Japan to forego "the cost of war," and content herself with such other compensation as she can secure out of the railroad, the Russian property in Port Arthur and Dalny, and the cost of the maintenance of Russian prisoners in Japan, this only on the theory that Russia will eventually agree to cede Sakhalin, which is now potentialy conquered territory. This is, undoubtedly, the line of ultimate compromise, if compromise there is to be.

Japan After Interned Ships.

The Associated Press can state authoritatively that neither the question of making Vladivostok an "open port" or the Amur river an international waterway, as some papers have stated, is included in the Japanese terms, which as developments have demonstrated were given correctly by the Associated Press the day they were submihted by Japan. Japan will make a stiff fight for the possesion of the interned Rusian warships.

Mr. Dennison, the American legal adviser of the Japanese mission, spent most of the day in his office looking up the precedents on the subject. Japan is exceedingly anxious to obtain these ships, and in her argument will quote several international precedents in support of her demand.

One reason why the Japanese are so insistent upon this article is because of their intention not to apply the indemnity, in case one shall be obtained, to the increase of the navy. The indemnity will be used first in paying off financial obligations incurred during the war, the granting of pensions and development of the Japanese educational system.

To replace the losses to the fleet, incurred in the war, and to maintain the fleet up to a standard of strength and efficiency sufficient to defend her interests, Japan needs additional battle ships and cruisers. If she obtains all of the Russian ships now interned in neutral harbors and succeeds in raising a number of those sunk in battle, she will be saved the necessity for the present, at least, of a large naval budget for new construction.

The London government is strongly in favor of insistence upon this article, and Japan seems to have set her heart upon the surrender of the ships by Russia.

CANN DECIDES STOVE RATE CASE

Judge Enjoins Railroad Commission from Enforcing Circulars.

Decides That Court Has Jurisdiction. That Powers of Commission Are Not Legislative—That They Are Only Administrative.

Savannah, Ga., August 16.—(Special.)—Judge Cann handed down his decision in the famous "stove rate" case this afternoon in the superior court. The court decided it had jurisdiction and then granted a sweeping injunction against the railroad commissioners of Georgia, restraining them from enforcing circulars 305 and 306 and from bringing any suit to compel the railroads to enforce the rates promulgated in those circulars, or in any other similar circulars, alike discriminatory, unjust and unreasonable.

The Palmer Hardware Company and other Savannah hardware men and stove dealers instituted proceedings against the railroad commissioners and the several lines of railroads entering Savannah, to prevent them from putting into effect certain rates on stoves and other like commodities, which, they claimed, were highly discriminatory in favor of Atlanta. The railroads filed a cross bill and took up the fight against the railroad commission with vigor, the rates being also very distasteful to them.

Recognizing the inequitableness of the rates the railroad commission withdrew the circulars a short time ago, and while Judge Cann had the case under advisement, but that did not settle the vital question of jurisdiction or the right of the commission to issue similar circulars.

The most important questions determined by the court were as follows:

This suit having been brought in the county of the residence of the Central of Georgia Railroad Company, and it being a defendant against whom substantial relief is prayed, this court has jurisdiction of the person.

The legislature cannot delegate a legislative function. The powers of the railroad commission are not legislative; they are administrative.

There is a limit by the constitution of this state upon the legislature as the kind of rates for which it can provide by law. The rates must be just; they must be reasonable; they must not be discriminatory.

MAY MAKE KICK ON NICARAGUA

Claimed That Consul Donaldson Was Only Defending American Property.

Washington, August 16.—When all the facts are received at the state department it is possible that the United States government will not accept without protest the action of the Nicaraguan government in cancelling exequateur of Consul Donaldson at Manguaga.

The information to hand is to the effect that Donaldson was acting in behalf of an American company, the Albars Bros., of which L. C. Cromer, of Philadelphia, is president. It is stated that valuable property of this company was in danger of destruction at the hands of citizens of Nicaragua and the consul was endeavoring to secure protection for it when he is alleged to have offended the president.

Columbus, Ga., August 16.—(Special.)—Sanitary Inspector Ledsinger went up to Griffin this morning and attended the first day's session of the League of Georgia Municipalities. A paper by Mayor Chappell, of Columbus, was one of the leading features of today's programme of the league.

BROKEN HEART KILLED WOMAN

Wife of Russian Plumber Died on Blackwell's Island.

New York, August 16—Mrs. Selie Weinstock, wife of a plumber, living in this city, died a prisoner on Ellis island Monday night. The doctors say heart disease was the cause, but her husband and friends are making a stormy protest over her detention by the immigration officials and declare that the woman died from a broken heart.

Weinstock came to this country from Russia four years ago. He left his wife and their three children with his father. Engaging in business on the east side he gradually accumulated money enough to bring them over and also took out citizenship recently.

Mrs. Weinstock arrived at Ellis island July 2. Her youngest child had contracted measles during the voyage and was immediately sent to a hospital ashore. The other children also were allowed to land, but the mother was held on a report by the examiners that she had heart disease. The husband went to Ellis island daily and tried to comfort Mrs. Weinstock. Meanwhile lawyers were busy and made strong efforts to secure permission for her to land.

The matter was finally taken before the bureau in Washington, but no action has been taken, when the woman suddenly gave way under the strain and died before her husband could reach the detention penitentiary.

DRUNKEN MAN PLAYS OFFICER

Joe Kent Fined by Columbus Recorder for His Pranks.

Columbus, Ga., August 16.—(Special.)—Having imbibed so much whisky that he imagined he was a bailiff, Joe Kent, a mill hand, started out to assist the officers by arresting negroes whom he imagined had violated the law. He went to a negro's house, knocked on the doors heavily and told the frightened darky that he had a warrant for his arrest. He grabbed the negro by the trousers, but the prisoner jumped away and ran under the house. Kent told him that he would fire if he didn't surrender, and was trying to locate the negro when Officer Cornett came up and took charge of him. Kent was fined $5 in the recorder's court for being drunk and disorderly. He said that he was drunk, and did not know how he had acted.

NEW SUBMARINE LIKE A SHARK

Inventor Says Boat Is Built To Act as Fish Does.

Cleveland, Ohio, August 16.—Luther C. Thompson has invented a submarine boat which the United States government is examining with a view of adapting it to the navy department. The invention looks like a shark, and that is the name Mr. Thompson has given the vessel.

"I have studied the actions of the fish for twenty-five years and my boat is constructed to sink just as a fish does, by means of diving blades," said Thompson.

The steering gear used on the submarines is not adapted to the kind of work that vessels of this class are expected to do.

JUDGE CANN DECIDES CASE.

Makes Receivership of Industrial Company Permanent.

Savannah, Ga., August 16.—(Special.)—Judge George T. Cann, in the superior court, today decided the receivership case of the Provident Savings Life Association against the Georgia Industrial Company, of Sparta, making the receivership of Frank W. Hazlehurst, of Macon, Ga., permanent.

The receiver is authorized to harvest the growing cotton crop and operate for tolls the gin of the Georgia Industrial Company. He may also purchase cotton and cotton seed ginned at the company's ginnery.

President Ford, of New York, of the Georgia Industrial Company, borrowed $40,000 from the Provident Savings Life Association on an insurance policy of $100,000, an obligation which he failed to meet, and the insurance company filed a general creditor's bill, in which about twenty intervenors sought to become parties plaintiff. These are scattered through Georgia and some are outside the state. President Ford asked the court that the company be given another chance, as he thought that it could get on its feet, but the receivership was regarded as desirable.

FIGURES GIVEN ON RAILROADS

Annual Statistical Report Issued by Interstate Commerce Commission.

Washington, August 16.—The annual report of the interstate commerce commission, giving the railroad statistics for the year 1904, shows that there was at end of that year 297,073 miles of railroad in the United States, of which 212,243 were single track; 15,824 second track; 1,467 third track; 1,467 fourth track and the remainder yard track and sidings. The increase in singe trackage for the year was 5,927 miles, exceeding the increase for any previous years since 1890.

The number of persons on the payrolls of the railways in the United States, as returned for June 30, 1904, was 1,296,121, or 611 per 100 miles of line, a decrease for the year of 16,416, or 28 per 100 miles. The wages and salaries paid for the year amounted to $817,598,810.

The par value of the amount of railway capital outstanding on June 30, 1904, was $13,213,124,679, which represents a capitalization of $64,265 per mile. Of the total capital stock outstanding $2,690,472,010, or 42.53 per cent, paid no dividends. The amount of dividends declared during the year was $221,941,049, being equivalent to 6.09 per cent on dividend paying stock. The gross earnings were $1,975,174,091, being $74,327,184 greater than for the previous year. Their operating expenses were $1,338,896.253, an increase of $81,357,401. The total number of casualties to persons on the railways was 94,201, of which 10,046 represented the number of persons killed and 84,155 the number injured.

MORTUARY.

Judge Curtin, Bristol, Tenn.

Nashville, August 16.—Judge Thomas Curtin, one of the most distinguished lawyers in this state, a native of Richmond, Va., is dead at his home in Bristol, Tenn., aged 53 years. Judge Curtin was closely related to Former Governor Curtin, of Pennsylvania, and was a cousin of Justin McCarthy, the Irish historian and parliamentarian.

Jesse E. Brown, Huntsville, Ala.

Huntsville, Ala., August 16.—(Special.) Hon. Jesse E. Brown, one of the most prominent lawyers in northern Alabama, died yesterday at his home in Scottsboro after an illness of several months with Bright's disease. Mr. Brown had only a short while ago returned from a hospital in Baltimore, where he was treated.

He was 60 years old. He was born in Jackson county and educated at Georgetown, Ky., and Lebanon, Tenn. He served as a confederate soldier in the civil war.

Out of respect to Mr. Brown, circuit court in session in this city took a recess for two days and the Huntsville Bar Association held a special meeting, at which eulogistic addresses were made by several members. A special train left this city this afternoon for Scottsboro conveying a delegation of lawyers and confederate veterans and ladies to attend the funeral.

John H. Davis, Wilmington, N. C.

Wilmington, N. C., August 16.—(Special) John Henry Davis, aged 47 years, died in this city tonight, at 7:45 o'clock, of typhoid fever, after a sickness of about two weeks. He was a mercahnt of Marietta, Ga., and was taken sick while here. Mr. Davis was at one time master car builder of the Atlantic Coast Line shops in Wilmington, a position he held until 1900, when he went with the Central of Georgia railroad, at Savannah. He gave up this position last year and went to Marietta.

MORE INSPECTORS ADDED TO FORCE

Macon Determined to Keep the City Clean.

Council Appoints Three More Men. House to House Inspection to Be Made and All Unhealthy Spots To Be Cleaned—Mayor Leaves For Griffin.

Macon, Ga., August 16.—(Special.)—Mayor Smith presented a paper to council last night containing recommendations as to precautions against unhealthy conditions in Macon, and in this paper he asked for three extra inspectors, making one for each ward in the city, during the time of cleaning up. These officers have been employed by council, as asked in the mayor's communication, and for the next ten days a house-to-house inspection and renovation will be made from one side of the city to the other.

Additional teams and men have been employed, and Street Foreman Wheeler has gone into all the alleys with his force to clean up every unhealthy spot. Council acquiesced in all the suggestions made last night by the mayor, and today every detail of plans are being put into effect.

Several thousand dollars will be expended in this cleaning movement, despite the fact that health records of a most excellent character are attributed directly to the fact that Macon has been for a number of years one of the cleanest cities in the state.

Strickland Bound Over.

Macon, Ga., August 16.—(Special.)—William Strickland, a negro farmer, brought up from Baconton last night by United States Deputy Marshal Walter Godwin, was given a commitment hearing before United States Commissioner W. E. Martin here this morning, and was bound over under a bond of $300 to await the action of the federal grand jury at the next term of the court.

Strickland is a well-to-do colored farmer and a strong effort was made to show that Henry Sterling, a negro boy 19 years old, had been placed in his care by his mother and had been hired as a laborer for the year. Strickland claimed to have whipped the boy for misconduct and had not forced him to labor for debt.

Gamblers Regain Property.

Macon, Ga., August 16.—(Special.)—Instead of making bond for the safe keeping of gambling paraphernalia taken from club rooms in charge of Samuel Edmondson, Clint Porter and T. B. Wooten, Sheriff Robertson today allowed the three men to make the necessary bond of $5,000 and take charge until a hearing can be had. Some time ago suit was entered for the recovery of roulette wheels, faro layouts and tables valued at $2,400 by the three men, and the property was turned over today.

Mayor Leaves for Griffin.

Macon, Ga., August 16.—(Special.)—Mayor Bridges Smith, secretary of the League of Georgia Municipalities, left today to attend the sessions of this body today and tomorrow at Griffin. Mayor Smith has, since the organization of this body four years ago, been one of the leading members, and has served as president. He lent valuable assistance in making up the present excellent programme.

Preparations for Labor Day.

Macon, Ga., August 16.—(Special.)—Great preparation is being made in Macon for the celebration of Labor day. The Central Labor Union at a meeting last night appointed committees to arrange for a meeting next Tuesday night at the Beavers' Club rooms, and at that time all details will be arranged for the day's programme. Much interest is being taken by the city at large in the coming event, and the features of the day will soon be announced.

Record in Rawlings' Case.

Macon, Ga., August 16.—(Special.)—The records in the case of Milton Rawlings have been sent here to Attorney John R. Cooper to be used in his appeal for a new trial. The document covers 350 pages of typewritten matter, and was prepared by Stenographer Britt Davis, of Valdosta.

Attorney Cooper has also asked for the records in the other cases and when all have been made he will have over a thousand pages of material to carry up for the hearing. The records in the motion which he made for a change of venue were received several days ago, and the man who will fight for the lives of the Rawlingses is now very busy arranging to appear before the court in Thomasville, on September 9, to argue the motion for a new trial.

His Watch Was Slow.

Macon, Ga., August 16.—(Special.)—No official report has yet been made in the wreck on the Central, costing two lives, here Monday afternoon. The authorities are still waiting for the statement of Engineer John Nash, who is at the city hospital.

Engineer Reddy, of the freight, stated today in a news report that he was not responsible for the accident, and said he would have been on the junction switch under orders before the passenger left, if his watch had not been two minutes slow.

Receivership Dissolved.

Macon, Ga., August 16.—(Special.)—Judge W. H. Felton dissolved the receivership on a stock of goods belonging to J. F. Williams & Son, at McIntyre, on a hearing in the superior court here. The receivership was created several months ago, and E. A. Ross was appointed received. Freid & Co., a bankrupt concern here, had bought in the stock of goods, and T. J. Carstarphen & Co., creditors of Freid & Co., had asked the receivership.

Beware of Mosquitoes

If mosquitoes were only annoying and their bites painful, there would be good reason for protecting one's self against them.

But when highest medical authorities assure us that these insects are positively dangerous to health and life, it becomes a very serious and important matter to prevent their attacks.

Jacobs' Mosquito Lotion is the best safeguard. A few drops on face and hands or bed clothing effectually drives the pests away. Its odor, while very pleasant to the human sense, is unbearable to the mosquito.

MASONS MEET AT COVINGTON.

Fifth District Convention is Well Attended.

Covington, Ga., August 16.—(Special.) Covington has been overrun with visitors today, the occasion being the second annual communication of the fifth district Masonic convention. About 300 delegates were present, representing forty lodges, comprising the counties of Fulton, DeKalb, Douglas, Clayton, Rockdale, Newton and Walton.

At 10 o'clock a. m. the convention was called to order in Masonic hall by Deputy Grand Master Thomas H. Jeffries. The address of welcome on behalf of the city was delivered by Mayor M. G. Turner, who is worshipful master of Golden Fleece lodge, No. 6. The response was made by Hon. Thomas H. Jeffries. The welcome address on behalf of Golden Fleece lodge was made by Hon. James G. Lester and responded to by Hon. John B. Hutchinson, of Jonesboro.

The convention then adjourned to the Methodist church, where, after an appropriate welcome address to the public generally by Hon. James M. Pace, Captain George M. Napier, junior grand warden of the grand lodge of Georgia, was introduced and delivered the Masonic oration. His magnificent address was well received.

At 1 o'clock a barbecue, the genuine old-fashioned Georgia article, was served to about 500 Masons and their families on the lawn of the city high school.

Another secret session was held in the afternoon for the transaction of routine business.

A game of baseball at the baseball park between Covington and Monroe attracted many of the visitors, the [illegible] son brass band, which furnished music for the convention, playing also for the ball game.

This meeting was probably the most notable gathering of a similar nature yet held in this city and nothing was left undone by the local Masons to make the occasion an enjoyable as well as a profitable one.

Attempt to Assassinate Officers.

Americus, Ga., August 16.—(Special.)—Police Chief Feagin and Patrolman William Morris narrowly escaped an assassin's bullet this morning while, at an early hour, they were driving through a negro settlement in search of a man wanted. While crossing the railroad tracks a rifle bullet, fired 50 yards behind them, struck the buggy. Both men jumped and, with pistols, went back to make a thorough search, but the would-be assassin had escaped in the darkness and no trace of him could be discovered.

"DUAL TARIFF" YES ARE TURNED

War Cry Will Supplant "Reciprocity."

Slogan Discarded at National Reciprocity Conference and Call is Made For Maximum and Minimum Arrangement to Regulate Tariff War.

hicago, August 16.—"Dual tariff" in probability is the war cry that will through the United States for some to come instead of the familiar of "reciprocity."

The new slogan means the passage of maximum and minimum tariff law mitting the establishment of reciprotrade relations with friendly foreign tries by vote of congress.

Alvin H. Sanders, chairman of the cutive committee of the national procity conference, which opened its days' session at the Illinois theater morning, is credited with originatthe war cry.

Mr. Sanders broached his suggestion to few friends after the word reciprocity received some rough handling on the of the convention, and it met approval among the delegates.

It is considered now probable that the reciprocity conference will close its sessions by resolving itself into the dual tariff league, an organization to have permanent form for the purpose of cating legislators and voters in the principles of the "high and low" system duties.

"I condemn the word 'reciprocity,'" L. E. Lincoln, of the Buffalo Live ck Association, who addressed the conference today. "In the minds of many ters 'reciprocity' means nothing else n 'free trade' and free trade is not object for which this conference is led."

This statement elicited a round of arty applause which broke forth anew en James F. Parker, chairman of the w York produce exchange delegation, de a similar declaration. Mr. Lincoln ggested as a title for the organization out to be formed, the "High and Low riff League."

EXTRA SESSION TALK IS HEARD

House in Wrangle Over Liquor Tax Amendment.

Adjourned Last Night Without Taking a Vote—Further Effort to Be Made to Put Extra Tax on Dispensaries—Comes Up This Morning.

There was talk of an extra session in the house last night, some of the advocates of a high tax on the sale of liquor asserting they would rather see an extra session called than to reduce the $500 tax on the sale of liquor as enacted by the house.

The house concurred in all the senate amendments to the general tax act down to the liquor tax section. All sorts of amendments were offered, and it being apparent that the high license members were in the majority, the advocates of a low tax got the floor and held it to the hour of adjournment, taking the matter over to this morning's session.

The senate amendment cut the liquor tax from $500 to $300. When it was reached, Mr. Wright, of Floyd, said:

"I will stay here, if necessary, until an extra session has to be called before I will cast a vote to concur in that amendment. Let us consider this. First, we made this tax $1,000, the figures I believe most firmly should have prevailed, but we yielded to the wishes of you who thought that too high, and the tax was cut half in two on a reconsideration. I felt sure that the senate would try to beat us down. But we here in the house ought to settle this question once for all."

Mr. Felder, of Bibb, moved to amend the senate amendment so as to fix the tax at $200 instead of $300.

"The tax of $500 is too high," said Mr. Felder, "so is the $300 tax. But the proposition of the gentleman from Floyd is simply preposterous. It is an attempt to make a prohibition measure out of the general tax act."

Mr. Davis, of Burke, offered an amendment placing tax of 2 1-2 per cent of the gross receipts of all dispensaries and raising the bar room tax from $300 to $350.

Mr. Davis argued that dispensaries, being given a monopoly in the liquor trade, should be made to pay a larger tax.

Extra Tax is Necessary.

Mr. Kelly, of Glascock, appealed for the $500 tax as passed by the house.

"Let's stay here until an extra session has to be called, if necessary," said Mr. Kelly, "but let us insist on the tax the house has fixed."

Mr. Dunbar, of Richmond, spoke for the $200 tax, as he said the cities were paying the bulk of the taxes of the state now.

Mr. McMichael, of Marion, offered an amendment making the tax on dispensaries 2 1-2 per cent of their gross receipts; on liquor dealers 500, and on beer sellers $200, and spoke in favor of it.

While Mr. Stovall, of Chatham, was speaking against the high tax, several members tried to get the floor to move to extend the session, but Mr. Stovall refused to yield, and the house adjourned without taking action.

FIVE TOURISTS FALL TO DEATH

Alpine Climbers Found Yesterday---An Occasion of Very Bad Luck.

Innisbruck, Austrian Tyrol, August 16.—No less than five Alpine fatalities were recorded today. Two tourists from Meran while hunting for eidelweiss were killed on the Peuegal, in the Zillerthal Alps.

While climbing the Hoefats group a Bavarian lawyer fell and was killed.

Four students from Dresden who were ascending the Hohergoell fell down a precipice. One was killed and the others probably were fatally injured.

Another youth of 16 was killed on Mount Mythenstock. He fell 900 feet and his body was reduced to a pulp.

SHORT ITEMS OF LOCAL INTEREST

DR. W. W. LANDRUM, PASTOR OF the First Baptist church, returned to the city yesterday and was at his prayer meeting last night. He was given a rousing reception by those present. He said his trip to England was one of the most enjoyable he had ever taken.

MISS HELEN R. TANNER, AGED 17 years, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Tanner, after an illness of about four weeks, died of typhoid fever about 6:45 o'clock yesterday evening at the residence, 509 Spring street. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

MRS. MATTIE C. TURNER, OF this city, died Monday evening at the home of her niece, Mrs. J. C. Tunison, in Elberton, Ga. Mrs. Turner resided in Atlanta for many years and was in the sixtieth year of her age. Before her marriage to William J. Turner, of Wilkes county, Georgia, she was Miss Mattie C. Marshall, daughter of Stephen B. Marshall, of Elberton. Mrs. Turner is survived by two sisters, Mrs. W. R. Respess, of Atlanta, and Mrs. Mark Hubart, of Texas. The funeral and interment took place in Eatonton yesterday. A large circle of friends throughout the state regret the death of Mrs. Turner.

NEAL HARRIS HAS BEEN CONfined to his home for the past two weeks suffering with a pronounced fever. Since Monday he has been showing an improved condition and his friends are now hopeful that he will soon be out again.

DR. THOMAS P. HINMAN, OF Atlanta, yesterday filed suit against McAllen B. Marsh for $169.15, claiming that that amount is due him for professional services. The bill originally was $152, but upon that sum there is an interest amounting to $17.15. The papers were presented to Deputy Clerk Harrison for record yesterday.

FRANK SMITH, A YOUNG WHITE man who lives at 394 East Hunter street, was held in a $100 bond by Acting Recorder Pattillo yesterday afternoon for carrying a concealed pistol. The evidence was that Smith got drunk, took another man's loaded pistol and threatened to kill those with whom he felt aggrieved.

CHIEF JENNINGS ATTENDED THE recorder's court yesterday and kept a close watchout for all persons who appeared to be vagrants and when such persons were found he directed that they be prosecuted in the state courts.

MRS. AMANDA WOODHAM, A WIDow 45 years old, died yesterday morning at 9 o'clock at her residence, 20 Gilmer street. The funeral will occur this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, at the home, conducted by Rev. Virgil Norcross. The interment will be in Oakland.

Hold-up In Yosemite.

Fresno, Cal., August 16.—Meager details of the daring robbery by a highwayman of the Yosemite valley stage, running between Raymond and Wawona, have reached here. The stages were held up one at a time 3 miles west of Ahwahnee, a few miles above Grub gulch. Passengers were relieved of their money. A telephone message was received here by W. A. Veith tonight from his brother, Anton Veith, Austrian consul at Milwaukee, who was a passenger on the stage coming out of the Yosemite valley. The telegram said: "Stage held up. Robbed of money, but not all."

To Erect Big Warehouse.

Cordele, Ga., August 16.—(Special.)—The Ray Grocery Company, which was burned out several months ago, will in the next few days begin the erection of a ware house, 50x120 feet, on the old planing mill site just north of the ware house of the Patterson Produce Company. The building will be of artificial stone and the first to be erected in this city of that material. The stone has been bought from W. B. Hill, of the Dooly County Artificial Stone Companyl. The contract has been let to a Fitzgerald company experienced in handling the material.

Harlem's Bank.

Harlem, Ga., August 16.—(Special.)—With the assistance of John D. Walker, of Sparta, Ga., the citizens of Harlem organized a bank this afternoon. The bank expects to be ready for business by the first of October.

GEORGIA MAYORS IN CONVENTION

Large Attendance at Annual Gathering at Griffin.

Mayors Are Welcomed By Hon. R. T. Daniel—Address is Made by President Atwater—Mayor Woodward Is In Attendance.

Griffin, Ga., August 16.—(Special.)—The League of Georgia Municipalities meet at Griffin today under the most pleasant auspices. The business meetings of the league are to be held in the large ball room of the Commercial Club rooms and those who have been in these rooms have pronounced them the most convenient and coolest ever provided for a meeting of the Georgia mayors.

It is a popular name here to call the meeting that of the Georgia "mayors," and by that name they are known here. The entire arrangements for the entertainment at the visit of these distinguished Georgians pleased the visitors very much, and the session has already given promise of being the most interesting and instructive of any yet held in the history of the league.

There is this year a much larger attendance than usual, the mayors of the smaller towns having been interested by the efforts of Mayor Bridges Smith, of Macon, and the president, James H. Atwater, of Thomaston. At about 11 o'clock today the meeting was called to order. Rev. J. R. Gunn, of the Georgia Orphans' home, at Macon, led in prayer. Judge Robert T. Daniel, of Griffin, gave the address of welcome for the people of Georgia, and his remarks were beautiful and appropriate

On account of illness, the mayor of Milledgeville, Hon. Julian Horne, who was to respond to this address of welcome, was not able to be there, and his place was well taken by the Hon. C. A. Picqueat, of Augusta, who was very happy and witty in his remarks.

Although he was suffering from a severe cold, and was hardly able to be present at the meeting, President James H. Atwater read his well-prepared and eloquent address, the principal feature of which was the recommendation of the change of date for the meetings so as not to conflict with the sessions of the legislature. General discussion of the various matters relating to the issuance of city bonds was had, and the excellent paper of Mayor Myers, of Savannah on this important subject provoked the most interesting discussion of the session so far.

Mayor Woodward, of Atlanta, participated in this discussion, and made a good impression on all who heard him. He was very businesslike in his remarks, and was given close attention.

At the afternoon session there were several excellent papers read by various persons on the all-important subject of sewerage, and some general discussion. The event of the afternoon session, however, was the beautiful speech made by the Hon. John Temple Graves, of The Atlanta News. No more eloquent address was ever heard in Griffin, and the broad and beautiful thoughts of the speaker were absolutely worthy of the occasion. All of the social features of the meeting are fine, and the mayors are having the time of their lives.

NEW HOSPITAL READY FOR WORK

Wesley Memorial Illustrates Practical Piety of the Day.

With the opening yesterday afternoon of the Wesley Memorial hospital, Atlanta has another modern and up-to-date philanthrophy in its midst. A big crowd greeted the speakers yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock at Wesley Memorial church, where the formal exercises took place.

The principal speaker of the afternoon was Bishop Warren A. Candler. His address was remarkable in many respects and after the close of the exercises the crowd gathered around him and showered him with congratulations.

Bishop Candler also read out a list of those who had helped the hospital in various ways.

Dr. J. Scott Todd was the speaker for the medical board. He said the board was giving its services to the hospital "without money and without price."

"The number of hospitals in a city," he said, "proclaims its practical piety. We live in the best era this world has known. We hear less about creed and see more work than ever before. This century when it is passed will have written over it as its motto 'duty.' The paramount aim of medicine is to alleviate suffering, and if posseble, lengthen man's sojourn on the earth. This it is doing more largely today than ever before."

At the conclusion of the exercises, despite the threatening weather, the largest part of the audience made a trip of inspection through the hospital.

AD. CAMPAIGN OPENS MONDAY

Executive Committee of Merchants' Association Met Yesterday.

The executive committee of the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association of Atlanta met at the chamber of commerce yesterday afternoon with President J. K. Orr in the chair.

The committee reported enthusiastic support of the movement to advertise Atlanta. Full page advertisements will appear next Monday in the principal daily papers of the south, followed by other full-page advertisements one week apart for the next thirty days.

It has been decided to publish a list of the membership of the association, together with the names of the articles they manufacture or sell. In addition to the seven full-page advertisements, 50,000 booklets are to be printed, setting forth inducements offered by the members of the association. These booklets will be sent to every portion of the south, and to every firm that could be a possible customer of Atlanta.

The following manufacturers and jobbers of Atlanta have joined the association, and other names are expected to be added to the list in a day or two:

Shoes—J. K. Orr Shoe Company, M. C. Kiser Company.

Spring Bed Manufacturers—Gholstin-Cunningham Spring Bed Company.

MANDEVILLE GIVES BIG CUE.

Carroll County Board of Trade Were Entertained.

Carrollton, Ga., August 16.—(Special.)—The Georgia barbecue given today by Hon. L. C. Mandeville to the board of trade of Carroll county wa a most enjoyable affair.

Special trains were run to Holly Springs, where the barbecue took place, carrying the guests from Carrollton. The barbecue was well attended. Mr. Mandeville had a number of interesting features on his programme of entertainment, chief among them was an old-fashioned fa-so-la singing. Many of the guests took part in this singing.

After the dinner was over many interesting speeches were made by the guests, most notable among which were the speeches of Hon. J. C. Bass, Messrs. Boykin, Mayor H. W. Long, John Sharpe, Judge W. F. Brown, L. D. McPherson, P. P. Kingsbury and R. Adamson.

A very interesting thing about this crowd was the presence of about 100 men weighing over 200 pounds and most of them as much as 250. After the speech making and the singing the guests repaired to Mr. Mandeville's summer home one the side of Reed mountain and were there entertained by their host.

BAPTIST COLLEGE ASSURED.

Waycross Will Have Fine Denominational College.

Waycross, Ga., August 16.—(Special.)—The Baptist college now seems to be assured for Waycross. Practically all of the required sum needed for the construction of the buildings has been subscribed, and those who have the matter in charge believe that it will be only a short time before the matter is finally closed.

Waycross alone has subscribed about $15,000 for the college, and the balance of the subscriptions is divided between five Baptist associations in south Georgia who will be patrons of the college.

Rev. W. H. Scruggs, pastor of the First Baptist church of this city, and W. D. Upshaw have been on the road for some weeks in the interest of the college and have about completed their work. The college will be located on Cherokee Heights on the eastern outskirts of the city.

SENATE ADOPTS ATLANTA BILL

Six Amendments to City Charter Will Soon Become Laws

Most Important Provides That Atlanta is to Have Authority to Close Waverly Place in Order To Permit Construction of Washington Viaduct.

The city bill was adopted by the senate during the session of yesterday afternoon, and it is now only necessary for the house to pass the amendment to the clause concerning Waverly place in order to put the bill upon the desk of Governor Terrell. The meaning of this is that the five amendments to the charter of the city, which were requested by the general council, will surely become laws during this session of the general assembly, and effective as soon as is desired by the general council of Atlanta.

Probably the most important of the six amendments is that which gives the general council authority to close Waverly place in order to permit the construction of the Washington street viaduct and the terminals and right-of-way improvements of the five railroads that are interested in property from the center of the city to the eastern limits.

Before adopting this section, the senate inserted an enabling act which provides that the provisions of the section shall not become effective until after the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company has subscribed to the contract made between the city and the Atlanta, Knoxville and Northern, the corporation in whose name the agreement was made, but which has since been absorbed by the Louisville and Nashville. There appears to be no doubt that the house of representatives will adopt the amendment of the senate.

Police Civil Service.

Another of the amendments to the charter authorizes the board of police commissioners to inaugurate civil service in the police department.

The four remaining amendments to the charter of the city, briefly stated, are as follows:

Authorizing the general council to submit to the people the advisability of issuing $500,000 of bonds for the improvements of the water works system.

Authorizing the general council to require bonds of persons, firms and corporations to whom city licenses are issued.

Authorizing the general council to increase to not more than $3,000 the salaries of the general manager of the water works, secretary of the board of water commissioners, assistant city attorney, commissioner of public works, city tax collector and assistant city marshal.

ALIMONY PLEA IN MARSH CASE

McAllen Marsh Asks Suspension of Public Opinion.

A second chapter in the Marsh divorce suit was written yesterday when Mrs. McAllen B. Marsh, through her attorneys, Arnold & Arnold, set up a plea for alimony.

In the petition a recount of the possessions of McAllen B. Marsh, as one of the three heirs of the late E. W. Marsh, is presented, and while nothing like a definite financial valuation is given to the share falling to McAllen B. Marsh, the petitioner asks that she be given by the court a temporary alimony of $150 a month.

Passing from the request for a temporary monthly alimony of $150, Mrs. Marsh expresses a desire that her permanent alimony be made $25,000, or some like amount, in the judgment of the court.

Marsh Makes Statement.

McAllen Marsh, the defendant, stated that, under the advice of his attorney, Thomas B. Felder, Jr., he did not care to have these matters exploited in the newspapers, but would say, as a matter of simple justice to himself, that the trial of the case will vindicate him entirely from the charges contained in the petition, and will fix the responsibility for their domestic troubles where it belongs, namely, upon the petitioner.

Until this trial shall occur, he would ask the suspension of judgment upon the part of those people who read the charges and who are not familiar with the real facts in the case. The fact that he is now, and has been, he asserts, during the period of his separation from his wife, making him home with her mother sheds some light upon the issues involved.

AFTER SIXTY-ONE YEARS AGAIN SERVES AS CHAIRMAN

GREENESBORO, GA., August 16.—(Special.)—The Greene county grand jury, now in session, is comprised of a number of the most prominent citizens of the county, and is, moreover, notable because of its organization.

Upon the meeting of the grand jury, Hon. Robert McWhorter was chosen foreman. Colonel McWhorter, who has played an important part in Georgia affairs since his early manhood, is 87 years old, hale and hearty, apparently, as ever.

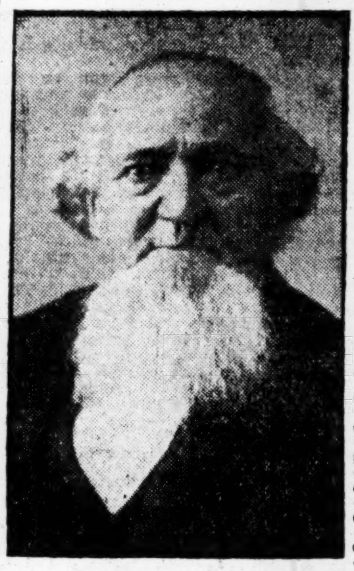
It is a remarkable coincidence that the first grand jury of which Colonel McWhorter was foreman was convened just sixty-one years ago.

Perhaps, there is no instance in Georgia history of a man being chosen to this remarkable office so far separated as in this case, where, between his first service and his present one, there has been a lapse of sixty-one years.

Coolnel McWhorter is one of the patriarchs of Greene, a man who from his early manhood has been prominently identified with the interests of this county and section. Although a native of Oglethorpe, he came to Greene when he was fifteen years old, and has resided here continuously during the more than seventy years that have followed. He has been an active member of the Baptist church for sixty-seven years.

His life has seen many stirring episodes. He was elected to the legislature as far back as 1857, and being reelected in 1859, he was a member of the legislature by which, after a violent contest, the question of secession was settled. He was a follower of Alex Stephens, and opposed secession; but immediately war was declared he went to the front, leading the first company that went from Greene county. He was subsequently transferred to the staff of General A. R. Wright as major, and continued on General Wright's staff until the surender at Appomattox.

When the war ended, he was one of those who promptly accepted the result, and turned his attention to the rebuilding of the state. Upon receiving the congressional pardon, he was, in 1868, again elected a member of the legislature, being chosen speaker of the house. He presided during the stormy period of 1870 and 1871. He was again elected in 1872; and, later, in 1881, he was elected to the state senate from the nineteenth district. During his entire legislative career, his efforts were always exerted in favor of the development of the state's resources, and toward the economical administration of the state's business affairs.



MAJOR R. L. McWHORTER.

He began life on the farm, his father dying when he was but five, and leaving his mother with a little farm of 75 acres. Later, when he came to Greene, he worked on the farm for his education and then for some years was in the mercantile business at Penfield, beginning as a clerk at a salary of $10 a year, and becoming a partner in a prosperous business. He married twice, his present wife, who was Miss Thurmond, being ten years his junior, who, like Colonel McWhorter himself, looks very much younger than the recorded span of years would indicate.

Work on New Y. M. C. A. Building

Waycross, Ga., August 16.—(Special.)—Now that about everything else seems to be coming Waycross' way, a new $25,000 Young Men's Christian 9ssociation building seems to be assured. Some time ago two of Waycross' most prominent citizens agreed to give $5,000 each for a new building provided $15,000 additional could be secured. The directors of the association here met and decided to close the Young Men's Christian Association quarters then in use and expend every effort in raising the additional $15,000. A. G. Villee, the secretary of the association, took the matter in hand and has secured sufficient subscriptions to assure that there will be no great difficulty in raising the small balance required.

SHY OF FUNDS IS PARK BOARD

Only $21.98 Remain for Salaries of Employees.

The fact that only $21.98 remains in the apportionment to pay rolls in the department of parks, and that none of the park hands will receive his money on next payday, was mentioned during the meeting of the board of park commissioners yesterday afternoon, and because of the absence of Mayor Woodward from the city, a discussion of the matter was postponed until tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Members of the park board have known since the beginning of the year that there was not sufficient money in the payroll apportionment, and the announcement of yesterday afternoon was, therefore, no surprise to them. It is undoubtedly true, however, that they do not know what course to pursue, and unless council's finance committee comes to the rescue and finds the money for the payroll in the department of parks, there is no telling what steps will be taken.

It is certain that members of the park board are not going to make themselves individually liable for the amount of the salaries. There is talk of closing all parks during the remainder of 1905 and commencing the work again on next January.

During the session of yesterday afternoon the park board adopted a resolution providing that all purchases of an extraordinary nature be submitted to the board before the order is given.

Other matters attended to were of a routine nature.

HEALY'S LOT WAS NOT CLEAN

He Was Fined--What About Police Barracks Basement?

William T. Healey was fined $25.75 by Acting Recorder Oldknow yesterday morning for failing to clean up a lot at the corner of Forsyth and Walton streets. The lot was full of trash and stagnant water, so the witnesses stated, and three or four citizens who had offices near the place testified that it was very foul and offensive.

This was one of the first cases made since the crusade against filth was inaugurated by the sanitary department, Sanitary Inspector Sewell making the case.

Acting Recorder Oldknow is a member of the city council and an ex-officio member of the police board. After he had fined Mr. Healey $25 and costs of court he was asked what he thought about the basement at the police barracks, which is full of stagnant water that breeds vermin and mosquitoes.

"I think the basement at the police barracks should be drained off and cleaned up at once. If the chairman of the police board would appoint me a committee of one I would see to it that the place was cleaned up. As acting recorder it was my duty to fine Mr. Healey, and if a city official should be brought before me for violating the sanitary law I would fine him as much as if not more than I did Mr. Healey. I hope the basement at the police barracks will be drained and cleaned up at once."

Vermont Celebrates Holiday.

Burlington, Vt., August 16.—Vermont's state holiday, the anniversary of the battle of Bennington, was signalized today by the dedication of a memorial tower to the revolutionary patriot, Ethen Allen, in this city with Vice President C. W. Fairbanks as the principal speaker.

Mr. Roosevelt was represented by Secretary of the Interior Hitchcock and Governors Bell, of Vermont, and McLane, of New Hampshire, also participated. Vice President Fairbanks arrived here yesterday.

New Satellite Discovered.

Boston, August 16.—Harvard observatory officials received a telegram late last night from the Lick observatory in California that a seventh satellite of Jupiter has been observed.

of fine eye-glass lenses is no experiment with us. There are scientific principles involved, details of workmanship, innumerable points unknown to opticians having inferior facilities, but which are of paramount importance and explain the prestige that Hawkes' glasses have attained among the users of glasses by affording better vision, greater comfort and neater appearance than they are able to obtain in glasses procured elsewhere. LION ATTACKS TRAINER IN VIEW OF AUDIENCE

CLARKSVILLE, TENN., August 16. During a performance of a circus here last night a fight took place between a lion and its trainer, Charles Duncan. After the latter entered the cage the enraged animal sprang toward him. Duncan slipped and fell, the lion leaping on him, biting and crushing the left shoulder in a frightful manner. The trainer discharged a pistol and hot irons were thrust into the cage for the purpose of driving the lion to a corner of the cage. Trainer Duncan was then rescued and removed to a sanitarium, where he is in a serious condition.

Duncan is said to live in Louisville, Ky. A large audience witnessed the thrilling experience of the trainer.

HE WILL WITNESS HANGING TO PROVE HIS PET THEORY

NEW YORK, August 16.—To strengthen his argument against capital punishment, the Rev. Emila Maury, pastor of the Second Reformed church, Jersey City, will witness the execution of Edward Tapely, a negro wife murderer, in Hudson county jail on Friday. Mr. Maury contends there is consciousness after the body of a condemned man leaves the platform. He declares that a man who was hanged in Jersey City four years ago gave a signal after the drop fell, showing consciousness, although his neck was broken. If Tapeley gives the same signs after the hanging Mr. Maury will appear before the legislature next winter and ask for the abolition of capital punishment.

JUMPED FROM SECOND STORY

While in Rack of Pain Man Jumps from Macon Hotel Window.

Macon, Ga., August 16.—(Special.)—After being treated for appendicitis, Walter B. McCommon, a carriage maker, living in Forsyth, jumped from a second story window in the European hotel here last night, was taken up in the street a raving maniac, carried to the police station, and from there to the city hospital, where medical aid brought no relief, and late this afternoon he died. A brother was notified of the death, and the remains will be taken to Forsyth tomorrow for the funeral and burial. A coroner's jury found that his death was due to natural causes, aided by the jump from the window. The leap is supposed to have been caused by the intense pain with which his body was racked.

MILLEN JOYFUL OVER VICTORY

People Celebrate the Formation of Jenkins County.

Millen, Ga., August 16.—(Special.)—The people of the new county of Jenkins are celebrating tonight in Millen with bon fires, fire works and a grand jolification. They offer thanks to Governor Terrell, the entire Georgia legislature and senate. They especially thank every member of the new county committee, and thank God for the blessing.

Cordele Happy Over the News.

Cordele, Ga., August 16.—(Special.)—Never before in the history of Cordele has there been a greater demonstration than has been on in this city since the first news of the passage of the bill creating Crisp county was received.. Cordele has simply gone wild, rejoicing over our great victory whistles are blowing, bells ring, the band is playing, the military company firing volleys and great bond fires and fireworks are seen and heard all over the city.

Eloquent speeches were made to the great crowd by B. H. Palmer, and Colonel Eakes congratulating Cordele and south Dooly on winning Crisp county. Both speakers expressed the sentiments of all present that we would forget ail differences, bury the hatchet and pull for Crisp county.

The people of Cordele and south Dooly wishes to thank, through the columns of The Constitution, all those who so nobly aided in winning so great a prize.

Col. Parish Changes Residence.

Savannah, Ga., August 16.—(Special.)—Colonel Thomas J. Parish left here with his wife today for Lyons, where he has decided to make his future home. He will continue the practice of law in the county seat of the newly-made county of Toombs. Colonel Parish has been a practitioner at the Swainsboro bar for about five years and enjoyed a large commercial practice, and had the high esteem and respect of all.

GRAY ANIMALS MAKE EXHIBIT

Owners of Gray Horses and Gray Mules Organize Association.

Swainsboro, Ga., August 16.—(Special.) The Gray Horse and Gray Mule Association convened in its first annual session here today and the gathering was a success beyond the most sanguine expectations.

There were about 500 present, people from all sections of Emanuel county, and from various avocations and callings. The organization was perfected and made permanent, with Hon. S. J. Tyson being elected president and C. B. Salter, of Gertman, secretary.

Prizes were given for the best gray mule and the best gray horse, and also for the poorest and worst looking animal of each class. Just before noon, when the prizes were awarded, the attendants at the convention gave a parade of the gray stock present through the main streets of the town. There was never seen so many gray mules and horses in Swainesboro at one time, and the parade was a show well worth witnessing.

During the day there was a great deal of swapping and trading of various sorts. The convention was really a great success and the day was a gala event for the owners of stock of a grayish hue.

The next convention to be held will be the Old Fiddlers' Association, which meets some time in October. It is declared the musicians will have to move things up if they give a better show or create more interest than did the Gray Horse and Gray Mule Association.

FEUD VICTIMS RECOVERING

Charley Crews who Killed Dowling Recovers From Injuries.

Waycross, Ga., August 16.—(Special.)—Charley Crews, the young man who killed Darling Dowling at Fort Mudge several weeks ago, and was himself seriously stabbed in several places, has about recovered from his injuries and was in town for a short time last week. Crews has not been arrested, and unless the grand jury takes up the matter the officers will not molest him. The trouble was caused by a feud which has been of long standing between the Dowlings and the Crews. According to witnesses, the killing was done in self-defense. Everett Mizelle, who was also injured by a stray pistol bullet during the row, has also about recovered.

Candler Horse Guards in Camp.

Gainesville, Ga., August 16.—(Special.) The Candler Horse Guards yesterday went into camp at Chattahoochee park for the purpose of target practice. Major Dozier, First Georgia cavalry, arrived this morning to spend the remainder of the week, instructing the troop on the rifle range. Details will be upon the range every day during the week, and it has been about decided to remain in camp over Sunday in order to have dress parade Sunday afternoon and review by Major Dozier.

HALL COUNTY SINGERS ENJOINED BY THE COURT

GAINESVILLE, GA., August 16.—(Special.)—It is reliably reported that the Chestnut mountain settlement in this county is considerably stirred up over two injunctions served upon singing school teachers, for whom classes had been made up at that place, restraining them from proceeding with their work. The injunctions were obtained from Judge J. J. Kimsey, by forty-four patrons, and Professor W. N. Olliver, principal of the literary school at that place, which is the largest in the county outside of Gainesville, and his reasons therefor were that the singing school would interfere with the literary school. The church in which the schools were to have been taught is near the literary school building.

Much feeling has been engendered. It appears that certain citizens of the community first made up a singing school for Professor J. L. Crow, of Pitts, Ga. He showed up a week ago yesterday, and had hardly got the school under way before he was served with an injunction by Deputy Sheriff L. F. Duckett, restraining him from proceeding, and setting a hearing on the injunction before the judge last Friday. Not wishing to antagonize anybody, Professor Crow quietly withdrew, and did not fight the injunction.

The people of the community, however, or those who wished the singing school, went ahead and organized a second one.

Professor H. B. Mathis, of Jackson county, was secured to teach the school, and it was to have begun yesterday morning. Some sixty-odd pupils and patrons met at the church and held an all-day singing, but Professor Mathis evidently got wind of the feeling previously engendered, and remained away Consequently, when Deputy Sheriff Duckett went there this morning to serve him with a restraining order, he did not find anything to "restrain." This second restraining order was granted by Judge Kimsey yesterday. It was brought to Gainesville last night and placed in an officer's hand for service this morning.

What will be the outcome of the matter is not known. Many of the most prominent citizens of the community are lined up on one side or the other, and all kinds of talk is said to be made by both sides.

LAND SECURED FOR SHOPS

A. C. L. Purchases More Property For Big Shops.

Waycross, Ga., August 16.—(Special.)—The committee recently appointed by the chamber of commerce to secure for the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company all the land needed by the company for the erection of their shops and railroad yard, have completed their work and a body of land extending a distance of over 2 miles in the western part of the city will soon be cleared of dwellings and ready for the railroad to begin work.

In Summerville and New Town there are about fifteen dwellings and a church which will have to be moved and the committee have already contracted for this work. Most of this property was owned by negroes.

Cotton at Americus.

Americus, Ga., August 16.—(Special.)—Considerable cotton is coming into Americus, total receipts approximating 200 bales. Much of this was picked wet, however, and does not command the best prices. Rain daily greatly interferes with cotton picking, otherwise the bales would be coming in at the rate of a hundred daily.

INDIGESTION

THE PLAGUE OF AMERICANS.

Hurry and worry, irregular habits, rich diet, impure water and immoderate use of ice cold drinks, have made us a nation of dyspeptics and slaves of indigestion. Inflammation and acidity of the stomach, spitting of food, heart burn, insomnia, and loss of strength and flesh are some of the effects of bad digestion. Daniel Spring Mineral Water is one of the greatest promoters of digestion ever known. By drinking this water, you not only have the purest and most wholesome of all beverages, but at the same time derive untold benefits from its mineral properties. It is cooling and healing to the stomach and a tonic and appetizer that nature has provided. A case of 6 half-gallon bottles delivered at your office or home for 45 cents. Both Phones 2434.

THE Y. M. C. A. OF ATLANTA, GA.
April 18, 1905.
I have been using the Daniel Mineral Water for a short time and find it quite beneficial for indigestion. I have been troubled with it for a number of years and shall continue to use the water, especially during the spring and summer.
W. W. WILLIS,
Ass't Secretary.

Daniel Spring Mineral Water is put up in 1-2 gallon bottles with Green and White Labels.

Great Russian victory—that reported from Port Lazareff. About as substantial as any of 'em.

It looks very much as if Corea and China are destined to the usual fate of innocent bystanders.

That New York man said to look like Chauncey Depew is wearng a 30 cents expression these days.

To be beaten by half a team, and in Slagtown at that, is certainly adding insult to injury of it all.

An ideal son of the Old Dominion is the new president of the Jamestown Exposition Company, Harry St. George Tucker.

A New York man has been fined for keeping two wives on $9 a week. What that man should have is a medal and a Carnegie hero pension.

That Pittsburg man may have invented his pie machine in the interest of womankind made tired by "the kind my mother used to make" talk.

Kentucky society makes as much fuss over the daughters of prominent distillers as St. Louis and Milwaukee make over the children of the big brewers.

If the Russians are so squeamish about calling it an indemnity, doubtless Mr. Komura will let them call it something else. By any other name it's just as sweet.

It is easy to believe the name of the new president of Texas university had something to do with his selection. No name gets closer to the Texas heart than Houston.

Some circus Indians have gone through the ceremony of conferring upon an army woman the title "Princess Pureheart." No, Mabel, dear, she is not that Mrs. Taggart.

If the republican party is responsible for all the prosperity in the country, should it not also assume responsibility for the yellow and typhoid fever epidemics?

A boy who stole kisses from two Philadelphia girls was sent to prison for ten days. As if it were not punishment enough to have kissed girls from Philadelphia!

Dan Lamont left an estate of over $3,000,000. It is just as well for the youth of America to understand, however, that he made it all after he quit politics.

In very truth it cannot be claimed that Mr. Wu neglected his education while in this country. He seems to have absorbed a complete understanidng of the boycott, at any rate.

There will be plenty of financiers to help Russia out with that loan the instant it is settled the proceeds are to go for peace. Millions for peace, but not one cent for powder!

It will not do to sneer too much at Billy Travers Jerome for smoking cigarettes. There be other eminent examplars of the Strenuous Life who have been known to daily with the coffin tacks.

The report that Rojestvensky's gunners hit one of Togo's ships in the battle of the sea of Japan must be taken with many grains of allowance. But perhaps they took the Jap ship for a trawler.

And now they say John D. Rockefeller did not begin making money until he was 35. If he had started earlier, would he not now own such small portions of the world as are apparently not in his grasp?

Despite all the iniquitous qualities she claims to have discovered in him, Ida Tarbell must acknowledge that John D. Rockefeller's career has been of great value to certain magazine writers she is able to name.

The Russian envoys complain that "they cannot get inside the Japanese mind." That's because the Japs are playing perfectly fair and above board. The Russian mind has never been able to understand truth and fairness.

Georgia's Textile Prosperity.

An eloquent and most practical indication of the status of the textile industry in Georgia was afforded by a recent dispatch to The Constitution from Columbus, this state. Our correspondent described in a few straightforward sentences the discarding of a large number of looms, "good enough for many mills," from the equipment of the Eagle and Phoenix plant and the substitution of new and improved machinery.

The management of the mill would have been able to continue their present enormous business with the use of the old looms, but they wisely decided to maintain only the most up-to-date machinery in the interests both of true economy and the needs of future expansion.

A similar policy is observable in textile circles throughout Georgia and the south. Mills long established are replacing old patterns of machinery with the latest models, while mills of later date are equipped throughout with the most improved looms and spindles obtainable. The perfection of its machinery is, in fact, one of the south's points of strength as regards competition not only with New England mills, but with those of Europe, as well.

Another significant feature of the dispatch mentioned is the following statement of Secretary Massey, of the mills referred to:

"We are selling all we can make. Orders are coming in thick and fast, and most of them are hurry orders. Practically no goods at all are allowed to accumulate in our warehouses. Our shipping department had to work at night last week. The demand is keen for all classes of goods made in our mills."

The Constitution has reason to believe that this healthful condition obtains throughout southern cotton mill circles. Which is gratifying not only to the owners of the mills, but to the cotton grower and to southern commercial interests generally.

Vagaries of Diplomacy.

The peace conference at Portsmouth will go down in history as one of the most unique in the annals of these portentous affairs. The fact that it signalizes the world's disillusionment regarding one of the powers heretofore considered a preponderating influence in international councils, and that it marks the ascendancy of another power classified only a few years ago as a negligible factor, is sufficient to give it distinction. There are other features, however, which lift it above the level of such events.

One of the most interesting is the furtive development of publicity. Hitherto negotiations of this momentous nature have been conducted under the cloak of almost impenetrable secrecy. It is true that journalists have been present at other notable peace conferences and that they have managed, in the face of apparently insurmountable obstacles, to insinuate veracious versions of the proceedings to their respective journals. A remarkable instance of this seeming magic was the feat of the spectacular deBlowitz, correspondent of The London Times, in getting to London a copy of the famous treaty of Berlin in 1878 almost before the envoys had attached their signatures to the original document. Such achievements are rare, however, and as a rule in the past every effort was exerted to render the daily proceedings a closed book to the public.

Diplomacy nowadays appears to be in process of evolution. Not only has a daily official bulletin been delivered to accredited representatives of the press, but Mr. Witte, head of the Russian embassy, has made a protest against the Japanese demand of inviolable reserve regarding details. He is quoted as being willing to publish to the world the minutiae of the negotiations so far, and is said to have even displayed irritation at Baron Komura's calm insistence on the etiquette of rigid reticence which has characterized previous negotiations of like import.

To the world at large Mr. Witte's action, if it is reported correctly, savors largely of a bluff. Quite assured that the Japanese will preserve their traditional policy of silence, he is seeking to gain for Russia the credit for perfect candor, while Japan is put in the attitude of concealment.

It is not likely his ingenious ruse will make much of an impression on the American people, however. The latter are sufficiently familiar with the precedents of Muscovite diplomacy to know that one of its strongest points has been the very secrecy now criticised in the Japanese. On the other hand, the course of the mikado, until actual hostilities rendered its continuance inexpedient, has been in the main one of open avowal, frank declaration and voluntary announcement of projected procedure. No one will blame his representatives if, in this critical stage of the nation's history, they refuse to take the world into their confidence.

Another odd feature of the conference has been the confusion of tongues between the participants. Komura and Takahira speak English and Japanese only; the linguistic accomplishments of Witte and Rosen are limited to French and Russian. The latter are understood to be able to read English, so that, outside of interpreters, they can communicate with the Japanese through the medium of written notes. It is easily seen, however, that absence of a common tongue will more or less impede negotiations. In this connection, the decadence of French as the international language of diplomacy is noticeable. It is reported to be losing its popularity on the European continent in favor of English, and the latter has long since taken the place of French in the Orient.

In dealing with the vagaries which more or less affect diplomacy at times, the element of weather and climate is seen to be important at Portsmouth as elsewhere. It is reported that up to within a few days ago the temperature has been so high that all the members of the respective delegations found their tempers on the ragged edge, and the possibility of a premature collapse of negotiations through nervous irritation could not be considered as a very remote contingency. It will be remembered that as small a thing as boiled onions largely decided the battle of Waterloo. Napoleon had indulged inordinately in this, his favorite dish, previous to the battle, and the ensuing attack of indigestion is believed by some historians to have been responsible for his defeat.

Bret Harte's Needy Daughter.

One may justly criticise the occasional small jealousies and heartburnings of literary men, but it is not to be denied that the real workers in literature give evidence at times of a very practical esprit du corps. A recent instance is the manner in which the better known writers of England, led by George Meredith, have rallied to the assistance of the daughter of Bret Harte. This girl—sometimes actress, sometimes singer, never too plentifully supplied with money—has just recovered from a protracted illness to be practically dependent on charity for her support.

The man who gave to our literature such roughly-hewn classics as "The Luck of Roaring Camp," "M'liss," "Tennessee's Pardner," "The Outcasts of Poker Flat," "Cherokee Sal," and the inimitable "Heathen Chinee," left a woefully shrunken estate in comparison with the large sums earned by his prolific pen. He never possessed the art of economy, such a thing as financial management being, too, beyond his ken. A man with such characteristics could not be expected to bequeath much more than a name to his descendants.

The writers of England have, therefore, vigorously taken up the mission of providing for his daughter, and it is reported the fund has already reached generous proportions. It would be no more than proper if the writers and readers of America participated in this commendable movement. Harte's name stands for a distinct epoch in our national life and literature, and his work has given substantial enjoyment to millions of people. Our reading public is certainly sufficiently rich in money and appreciation to express the latter in tangible form.

LETTERS FROM PEOPLE.

The Settlement of Georgia.

Editor Constitution: I notice that Hon. Madison Bell has introduced a resolution to declare February 12 as the date when Georgia was settled.

I do not know that it is important for the legislature to settle this date, but if so, it ought to be settled right. By no system of calculation is February 12 the proper date. Georgia was settled on the first day of February, 1733, according to the old style, or according to the new style, February 14, 1733; therefore, February the 12 is not correct in any view of the matter. I own a file of the "Gentlemen's Magazine," commencing with volume 1, in 1731 and ending in 1860, and on page 168 of the April number, 1733, is the following letter from General James Oglethorpe, who settled the colony and whose words ought to be authentic. His letter I quote from the magazine is as follows:

"Extract of Mr. Oglethorpe's letter to the trustees for establishing the colony of Georgia, dated from the camp at Savannah February 10, 1732-3.

"'Gentlemen: I gave you an account in my late arrival at Charlestown. The governor and assembly have given us all profitable encouragement. Our people arrived at Beaufort on the 20th of January, where I lodged them in some new barracks built for the soldiers while I went mystelf to view the Savannah river. I fixed upon a healthy situation about 10 miles from the sea. The river here forms a half moon along the south side, of which the banks are about 40 feet high and upon the top a flat, which they call a bluff. The plain high ground extends into the country 5 or 6 miles, and along the river side about a mile. Ships that draw 12 foot water can ride within 10 yards of the bank upon the river side. In the center of this plain I have laid out the town, over against it is an island of very rich land fit for pasturage, which I think should be kept for the trustees' cattle. The river is pretty wide, the water fresh and from the key of the town you see its whole course to the sea, with the island of Tybee, which forms the mouh of the river, and the other way you see the river for about 6 miles up into the country. The landskip is very agreeable, the stream being wide and bordered with high woods on both sides. The whole people arrived here on the 1st of February at night; their tents were got up; till the 7th we were taken up in unloading and making a crane, which I then could not get finished, so took off the hands and set some to fortification, and began to fell the woods. I marked out the town and common, half of the former is already cleared and the first house was begun yesterday in the afternoon. Mr. Whitaker has given us 100 head of cattle. Colonel Bull, Mr. Barlow, Mr. St. Julian and Mr. Woodward are come up to assist us with some of their own servants. Your most obedient humble servant,

"J. OGLETHORPE."

But some may say we shuld bring this down to date and adopt the Georgian calendar. If so, the date would be the 14th of February, but I do not think that we ought to change the day, but have it the 1st day of February, otherwise we would have to be constantly changing. I quote from page 671 of volume 4, Encyclopaedia Britannica, ninth edition, printed by Charles Scribner's Sons, in 1878, as follows:

"It has already been mentioned that the error of the Julian year was corrected in the Georgian calendar by the suppression of three intercalations in 400 years. In order to restore the commencement of the year to the same place in the seasons that it had occupied at the time of the council of Nice, Gregory directed the day following the feast of St. Francis, that is to say the 5th of October, to be reckoned the 15th of that month. By this regulation the vernal equinox which then happened on the 11th of March was restored to the 21st. From 1582 to 1700 the difference between the old and new style continued to be ten days; but 1700 being a leap year in the Julian calendar, and a common year in the Georgian, the difference of the styles during the eighteenth century was eleven days. The year 1800 was also common in the new calendar, and, consequently, the difference in the present century (our last) is twelve days. From 1900 to 2100, inclusive, it will be thirteen days."

So you see that from this author we would have to add thirteen days to the 1st of February if we want to come down to date, and that would make the day the 14th of February, and then in about 200 years from now we would have to change the date again and so on.

"The inconvenience, however, of using a differing date from that employed by the greater part of Europe in matters of history and chronology, began to be generally felt; and at length in 1751 an act of parliament was passed for the adoption of the new style in all public and legal transactions. The difference of the two styles, which then amounted to eleven days, was removed by ordering the day following the 2d of September of the year 1752 to be accounted the 14th of that month; and in order to preserve uniformity in future, the Georgian rule of intercalation respecting the secular years was adopted. At the same time the commencement of the legal year was changed from the 25th of April to the 1st of January."

Any one taking the trouble to investigate will find all of the mathematical calculations and a full history of the change of these dates.

But let's preserve the sentiment of the matter. If Oglethorpe is to be believed, Georgia was settled on the 1st day of February, 1733, and if we are to bring that date down to modern time, it would be the 14th day of February, and not the 12th.

I hope Mr. Bell will amend his bill and preserve the sentiment "of the first day of February." He is recalling a historical event and we must state history by the time it occurred, and not in a view of subsequent light or changes.

GOSSIP AT THE CAPITOL

A NUMBER of important appointments were made yesterday by Governor Terrell and sent to the senate for confirmation. In each instance the office involved was the judgeship or solicitorship of a city or county court. The list was as follows:

Hon. R. T. Daniel, to be solicitor of the city court of Swainsboro for the unexpired term ending December 17, 1906; Hon. A. D. Freeman, reappointed to be judge of the city court of Newnan for a term of four years, beginning March 26, 1906; Hon. Frank A. Irvin, reappointed to be judge of the city court of Cedartown for a term of four years, beginning December 20, 1905; Hon. H. H. Swift, to be solicitor of the city court of Columbus for a term of four years, beginning October 17, 1905; Hon. H. H. Chandler, reappointed to be solicitor of the city court of Carnesville for a term of four years, from December 13, 1905; Hon. R. M. Crum, to be judge of the county court of Clinch for a term of four years, beginning October 28, 1905; R. G. Dickerson, reappointed to be solicitor of the same court for a term of two years, beginning October 28, 1905.

In several instances there were a number of applicants and the contests for the offices involved were quite lively, notably that of the solicitorship of the city court of Columbus. Judge Crum, of the Clinch county court, is a brother of Senator Crum.

Local Bills Signed.

Governor Terrell yesterday signed three local bills, two establishing city court and one incorporating a school district. The bills approved were:

By Mr. Land of Wilcox—To incorporate the Pine View school district of Wilcox county.

By Messrs. McRae and Ashley of Lowndes—To establish the city court of Valdosta.

By Mr. Bush of Miller—To establish a city court in and for the county of Miller.

The debate in the senate Tuesday on the child labor bill attracted more attention perhaps than that on any other measure that has been before the present general assembly. The debate was marked by eloquent oratory and fine logic, and the speakers were frequently interrupted by applause from the galleries.

Among the most eloquent speeches made in favor of the passage of the child labor bill were those of Senator Walter E. Steed, of the twenty-third district, and Senator B. S. Miller, of the twenty-fourth district. Both these senators were strong advocates of the measure, and both of them took advantage of the opportunity to appeal to the senate for the passage of the bill.

Both Senator Miller and Senator Steed have distinguished themselves by their oratory during the present session of the general assembly, and they were at their best Tuesday. Immediately after the senate adjourned after defeating the bill their friends congratulated them upon their efforts in its behalf, declaring that though the measure was lost they had won new honors in their plea for its passage.

Senator Bacon Better.

Hon. Calvin M. Hitch, former executive secretary in Governor Terrell's office, and now private secretary to Senator A. O. Bacon, was a visitor at the capitol yesterday. Mr. Hitch at present makes Macon his headquarters, where he is acting as the personal representative of the senator during the latter's travels abroad.

In speaking of Senator Bacon's trip yesterday Mr. Hitch said:

"In the last letter I had, a few days ago, Senator Bacon stated that he would probably return to Georgia in about six weeks. His journey has improved his health wonderfully, and he is now almost entirely restored to perfect health, even better health than before overwork broke him down.

"For the past six weeks he has been in the Swiss Alps and in the frequent letters I receive from him he tells of long and exhilarating mountain climbs, which he declares are working wonders for him."

When asked whether or not his brother, Captain R. M. Hitch, of Savannah, would be a candidate for congressman, Mr. Hitch stated that as yet his brother had not committed himself in any way on this proposition, but that the indications were quite favorable to his making the race.

Investigate Cattle Situation.

On Friday of next week Commissioner of Agriculture Hudson and several others, including the head of bureau of animal industry of the Georgia experiment station, will meet at Blue Ridge, in Gilmer county, for the purpose of looking over the cattle situation in that and Fannin counties.

It is expected that Fannin county will be found entirely free of the cattle tick, and in that event the United States department of agriculture will be asked to raise the quarantine against that county. It is also hoped that Gilmer county will be found in such condition that some time during the fall the same request may be made concerning it.

Senator Fitzgerald.

One of the most striking characters of the senate of the present general assembly is Senator W. W. Fitzgerald, of the twelfth district.

Senator Fitzgerald is a member of the old school of statesmen, holding strenuously to the belief that the "country which is least governed is best governed." He says that he feels it his duty to contribute what force he can towards killing much legislation introduced, as much as to help pass some bills.

He is proud of the fact that he has not introduced a single bill or resolution during the present session of the general assembly. He says the eagerness of some members of the legislature to get their bills through, good, bad or indifferent, so as to make their constituents believe they are at work, amuses him.

He jokingly remarked the other day that at the next session of the general assembly he intended to show the legislators that he also could introduce as many bills as any of them, and intended to come prepared to introduce one bill regularly every day. He said he would not care what became of these measures after they were introduced, but that he merely wanted to show the boys that if he wanted to he also could take up the valuable time of the general assembly by a lot of absolutely useless bills.

Senator Fitzgerald asserted that he was absolutely positive he represented the best people in the state. He said his constituents had confidence in his judgment and were willing to trust him implicitly. Consequently he felt at liberty to vote for or against any measure which came up for consideration, and hence his ability to take a definite stand against much vicious legislation introduced.

Speaking of his constituency yesterday.

Senator Fitzgerald is a successful miller and farmer in Stewart county. The senator says he has given his mill to his boys, and that he is now enjoying the easy and happy life of a farmer. Those who have seen the broad, fertile fields of the senator from the twelfth say that no farm in the whole county is better kept up and none more productive than the senator's. They say he has learned the art of extracting the most and best possible from the ground.

Senator Fitzgerald stands 6 feet 4 inches in his stockings, is of powerful frame, and weighs over 200 pounds. His high forehead is indicative of the high order of intelligence which is his. His clear, steel blue eyes are always dancing with fun, and are indicative of his happy disposition. His clear cut nose, wide mouth, and prominent chin with emphatic jaws are indicative of the strong character which shows in every word and movement of the senator.

Senator Fitzgerald has won a large number of friends during his stay in the city, and those who know him will welcome his return when the legislature reconvenes next year.

New Counties Again.

Senator B. S. Miller, of the twenty-fourth district, introduced in the senate yesterday a bill which provides for a constitutional amendment so that not more than ten new counties, exclusive of the eight already before the legislature, at the discretion of the legislature, may be created.

Senator Miller says he believes that there are more than eight sections of the state which are in need of relief in the matter of new counties. He believes that his proposition to allow the creation of other new counties will meet with hearty approval from the people of the state.

Quite a party of officials and citizens will pay a visit to Ducktown, Tenn., and the surrounding country on next Thursday with a view to looking into the conditions produced by the fumes from the Ducktown copper smelters, in conformity with the resolution passed by the general assembly.

In the party will be Commissioner of Agriculture Hudson, State Geologist Yeates, State Chemist McCandless, and a number of other officials, including several members of the legislature. Quite a number of citizens owning property in the affected district will also accompany the party.

The general examinations of applicants for teachers certificates will be held in all the counties of Georgia on Auugst 25 and 26. The questions for these examinations are prepared by State School Commissioner Merritt, and the examinations are held under the direction of the county school commissioners.

T. F. Parkes and W. L. McFarland, of Nashville, Tenn., accountants who are now being paid by Cobb county to look over and audit the accounts of all county officials in that county, were visitors at the state capitol yesterday. They are now auditing the accounts of the county school commissioner of Cobb county, and visited the office of State Treasurer Park, to inspect certain records there.

Hon. C. H. Lewis, the representative from Gorodn county, is in favor of all laws that tend to better the agricultural interests of Georgia. A strict prohibitionist, he has fought all measures tending to put saloons or dispensaries in any county in the state of Georgia. He was a strong advocate of the child labor and state reformatory bills and made speeches in the house supporting each of these measures. Mr. Lewis is public spirted and takes great interest in the public schools of Georgia.

JOSEPH M. BROWN WRITES OPEN LETTER TO HOKE SMITH

Hon. Joseph M. Brown, railroad commissioner, has furnished the following open letter reply to the personal attacks of Hon. Hoke Smith, candidate for the governorship:

Office of the Railroad Commission of Georgia.—State Capitol.—Atlanta, Ga., August 14, 1905.—Hon. Hoke Smith, Candidate for Governor, Atlanta, Ga.—Dear Sir: I notice that the correspondent of your personal organ, The Atlanta Journal, in reporting your speech at Hogansville, Ga., August 5, says:

"Speaking of 'Little Joe Brown,' railroad commissioner, Mr. Smith said he had strong hopes for 'Little Joe' until his visit to Vice President Culp, of the Southern railway."

And the The Atlanta Constitution of August 11, in its report of your speech at Dawson, the day before, says:

"In referring to Hon. Joseph M. Brown, he contemptuously, as usual, dubbed him as 'Little Joe.'"

Yes, I am "Little Joe Brown." There was but one "Great Joe Brown," and he, like a mountain of glistening white marble, looms so sublimely aloft into the empyrean of Georgia's intellect, patriotism and moral forces, that it would seem almost profanation for me to assume to stand, save at his feet; and, although the glories of earth's grandest republic are ours, yet, in his rulership over the better elements of my heart, he was king next after God. And so I shrink not from your sneer. I am "Little Joe Brown."

And now, as to my "visit to Vice President Culp." Section vii of the act creating the railroad commission, says "that it shall be the duty of said commissioners to make personal visitation of railroad offices, stations and other places of business in order to procure the necessary information to make just and reasonable rates of freight and passenger tariffs."

That is pretty good authority for making a visit to Vice President Culp—is it not?—far better authority, and in far better taste for me to visit the vice president of the Southern railway to obtain information, as directed by law so to do, than it was for you, while attacking the Southern and all other railroads, to go to the president of that road and secure through him from J. Pierpont Morgan a loan of $50,000, for which both you and the paper you then owned, The Atlanta Journal, became not only silent in its attacks on the railroads, but became their positive champion—you especially so in your Greater Georgia banquet defense of President Spencer for "his glorious work in helping to purify the politics of the state"—or words to that effect.

And it was at that meeting with the traffic officials of the trunk line railroads of Georgia that I politely but firmly made this declaration:

"Whenever the railroad commission of Georgia has reason to believe that the railroad companies are taking steps to punish any manufacturing company, or any single shipper, because that company, or individual, has taken part in a movement to secure a reduction of rates, the railroad commission will make it its special duty to protect, by every means which the law places in its power, that company, or that individual, even though such be the humblest in Georgia."

And the company, the unfair treatment of which by the railroad companies drew forth that declaration, was the Atlanta stove works, and the individual was its president, my friend, Sam D. Jones, whose reproaches I have, within the past few days, been receiving through the columns of your personal organ, The Atlanta Journal.

But the burden of your complaint against me is that I did not vote to grant the application of the Atlanta freight bureau (whose members were, certainly for a time, your clients) for "port rates." You have dwelt upon this matter in several of your speeches, and have generally ignored all the reasons I gave, save one, namely, that the granting of this rate by our state commission would derange the great fabric of interstate rates in the southeast.

But, in your Hogansville speech, I note that you said:

"There is but one way our state commission can help give us lower rates from outside the state. It is by giving us cheaper rates from the ports to all interior points. This the railroad commission refused to do, and one of their main reasons for refusing was that by reducing the rates from the ports to the interior points, it would force down the all-rail rates east and west outside of the state."

And so, we have the suspected reason authoritatively admitted at last. The "port rate" of 50 cents per one hundred pounds, first class, with other classes graded, from Savannah to Atlanta, was aggressively demanded for the purpose of reducing the interstate rates.

Now, there is a big question of law involved in this pet hobby of yours. When I first became a man I studied law; but the failure (which happily proved temporary) of my eyesight forced me to seek an occupation of a different nature, and, after a time, I drifted into railroading. There is, hence, a good deal of law which I have forgotten. But there is some which I recall, which I think you have forgotten, hence I quote:

"The congress shall have power to regulate commerce with foreign nations and among the several states, and with the Indian tribes."—Constitution of the United States, Section viii.

In your speech at Camilla, you distinctly stated that, if you became governor, you would suspend me from office, and the reason you gave was that I, as railroad commissioner of Georgia, would not meet your views in attempting to usurp powers which the constitution of the United States has unequivocally delegated to congress. The difference between your status and mine at present is that I am under oath and you are not. But, two or three years ago, when neither of us was holding a state office, we were more nearly on the same plane.

In a conversation with me then, you will no doubt readily recall, you said to me: "I would like to be governor of Georgia for just one hour. I would appoint you railroad commissioner, and would then be willing to resign. To be able to make that appointment is the only motive I have in wanting to be governor."

And then you added some words of high compliment which it would not be good taste for me to repeat.

Now, I have been made railroad commissioner. In the course of my duties I have felt compelled, in obedience to the constitution of the United States and the laws of this state, to decide one issue counter to your desires, and you at once declare that if you become governor you will suspend me from office. Therefore it is natural to presume that if the supreme court judges decide a pet measure against your wishes you will require the general assembly to impeach them; that the same fate will be suffered by the circuit court judges; and the ordinaries and the county court judges and the justices of the peace will be removed; in fact, every officer in Georgia who, acting under his oath, presumes to differ with you.

But as a "port rate" for Atlanta was your ultimatum, one which you have now changed to "port rates for Georgia cities," I will, in another letter, give you some figures showing that the figures which you say you (if you are elected) are going to suspend me for not willing to make effective from Savannah to Atlanta are lower than from Charleston to South Carolina cities, and from Mobile to Montgomery and Birmingham. I shall then ask you to tell me why Atlanta should plead the baby act and require not the same rates, but lower rates, in order to be able to compete with those Alabama and South Carolina cities for business from the east. And I will probably submit some other figures which were the subject of a famous decision of the supreme court of the United States, and shall ask you to tell me candidly if you are prepared to overrule that court.

And in the meantime I renew my challenge to you to disprove my statements based on the tables of figures appended to my opinion on the "port rate" and that the "port rate," if put in on the basis asked, would have wrought disaster instead of benefit to Atlanta's manufacturers. You and your personal organ, The Atlanta Journal, have persistently steered clear of those tables. Very truly yours,

JOSEPH M. BROWN,
Commissioner.

MAYOR WOODWARD IN GRIFFIN

Has Gone to Georgia City to Attend Meeting of Georgia League of Municipalities.

Mayor Woodward left yesterday morning for Griffin, where he will remain for two days. He is attending the meeting of the League of Georgia Municipalities which has a number of interesting topics for discussion.

During the absence from the city of Mayor Woodward the executive office is being looked after by Mayor Pro Tem John H. Harwell, who presides with dignity over the affairs of the city.

BILL TO SAVE FEES ON CONVICT HIRE

Oats to Be Exempted From Operation of Boll Weevil Law—The Winder Compromise and Resolution For Tax Commission Both Passed By House.

As yesterday was the last day on which a bill could be passed by the house and go through the senate, many members made efforts to get their bills through, but few succeeded, and only three or four measures of consequence were passed.

The important measures put through by the house at the morning and afternoon sessions included the Jenkins bill to appropriate $75,000 to install a new waterworks system at the state sanitarium; the McMichael bill providing that the net convict hire which goes to common schools shall be remitted direct to the county school commissioners so as to save county treasurers' fees; the Calvin bill to exempt "oats" from the operation of the boll weevil law and the Candler resolution, providing for a commission to sit during the recess to investigate and report as to a revision of the state tax laws.

One or two other measures were passed and the house spent some time in the discussion of a resolution to appoint a commissioner to codify the laws passed since the adoption of the code of 1895, which resolution was placed on the table where it will remain for the balance of the session.

HON. B. S. MILLER,
Of the Twenty-fourth District, Who Spoke Eloquently in Favor of the Child Labor Bill Tuesday.

Will Satisfy Winder.

The bill which was offered with a view to mitigating the sorrows of the thriving town of Winder over the failure of her people to secure a new county, was passed by a vote of 89 to 0, after a brief explanation by Mr. Anderson, of Chatham. This bill, introduced by Messrs. Hardman and Holder, of Jackson; Nowell and Gallaway, of Walton, and Nix and Wilson, of Gwinnett, representatives of the three counties in which Winder is located, provides that where a county line or lines run through any incorporated city or town, the people of such city or town may hold an election to determine into which county they wish to go. This measure has been denominated the "Winder compromise." The bill is sure to pass the senate. Then there will be a lively fight between the three counties in question to get this valuable community wholly within its borders.

Resolutions Passed.

The house passed by unanimous vote a resolution of sympathy to Hon. H. H. Revill on account of a recent death in his family.

A resolution by Mr. Rucker, of Clarke, to refund to Dr. W. A. Carlton, of Athens, certain taxes which were paid twice, was passed.

The house passed a resolution to pay an extra doorkeeper, G. R. Cochran, $4 a day, whose services were made necessary on account of the sickness of Doorkeeper J. H. Williford.

Visiting Committees.

Under a resolution by Messrs. Stovall, of Chatham; Holder, of Jackson, and others, passed by the house sub-committees from the general assembly will visit the State university and its branches, the school for the deaf and the academy for the blind during vacation and report to the next session.

To Cut Off Fees.

The house passed, without dissenting vote, the bill by Mr. McMichael, of Marietta, amending the state penitentiary act so as require that the net hire from convicts, apportioned to the various counties for school purposes, shall be transmitted direct to the county school commissioners by the state treasurer instead of being sent to the county treasurer. This change in the law, Mr. McMichael stated, would save about $13,500 a year to the school children of the state now paid in commissions to county treasurers.

To Revise Tax Laws.

The house passed a joint resolution by Senator Candler, of the thirty-fourth, providing for the appointment of a commission of two from the senate and four from the house, to sit during vacation without expense to the state for the purpose of investigating the tax laws of the state and reporting at the next session by bill or otherwise what revision should be made in these laws.

An Hour Lost.

As on Tuesday, the house lost an hour in discussing the report of the committee on rules fixing the order of the day. The time was largely taken up by objections by Mr. Wright, of Floyd, and Mr. Knight, of Berrien, who wanted the Tuesday's order of business made the order for Wednesday. The committee on rules did not bring over the bills unacted on Tuesday, hence the objections of Mr. Wright and Mr. Knight. In spite of these objections the house voted overwhelmingly for the report of the committee on rules and against the suggestions of the objecting members.

A resolution by Mr. George, of Morgan, proposing to make the committee on rules a steering committee for the remainder of the session was lost by being sent to the table.

A resolution to abolish the committee on rules was referred to the rules committee for report.

Sanitarium Water Supply.

The bill by Mr. Jenkins, of Putnam, to appropriate $75,000 to build a new water works system at the state sanitarium, which was favorably reported by the committee of the whole at Tuesday night's session, was the first measure taken up under the day's order of business.

Mr. Jenkins spoke in favor of a private water supply, and against the proposition of the Milledgeville Water Company to furnish the sanitarium's water at 7 cents per 1,000 gallns. This would cost the state $8,900 a year, he said. He declared that the Philadelphia corporation back of the Milledgeville Water company had been several times brought into Georgia and federal courts for failing to carry out its contracts.

Mr. Hines, of Baldwin, spoke against the Jenkins bill and in favor of the contract with the Milledgeville Water Company. The private water plant could not be built for less than $125,000. The Oconee river water was impure on account of sewage, he said, whereas the Milledgeville Water Company proposed to furnish pure spring water, up to 500,000 gallons a day. There was no doubt the sanitarium needed the water supply; the only question was as to the best and cheapest way to get it. The sanitarium could use its present water supply, he said, and get an auxiliary supply from the Milledgeville Water Company for $4 a day, which would be a great saving to the state.

Mr. Wright, of Richmond, spoke in favor of the Jenkins bill. The trustees opposed the contract with the water company, he said, because they did not consider the so-called spring water fit for use and because they did not think the contractor the proper sort of person to make a contract with.

Would be a Mistake.

Mr. Wright, of Floyd, said it would be a mistake for this institution to make a twenty-year contract with a discredited company. The Philadelphia Pipe Company, which owned all but $25,000 of the stock in the water company, had been discredited in the courts of the state, he said, and had had trouble almost everywhere they had gone in Georgia.

SENATOR W. E. STEED,
Of the Twenty-third District, Whose Address Tuesday Was One of the Strongest Made in Favor of the Child Labor Bill.

Mr. Persons, of Talbot, said the trustees of the sanitarium were all good business men and knew what its needs were. A legislative committee had personally investigated the matter and all but the gentleman from Baldwin had reported in favor of this bill.

Mr. Nolan, of Henry, spoke along the same lines and declared that the water of the Oconee river, "fresh from the crystal breast of north Georgia," was as pure as that furnished to any city in the state.

If the state made a contract with the Milledgeville Water Company, it would probably be in the courts within a few years, declared Mr. Davis, of Burke. The Philadelphia Pipe Company had had litigation wherever it had gone. Prominent citizens of Milledgeville had testified that the water now furnished by this company was not fit for horses and cows to drink. The trustees of the sanitarium also proposed to furnish water to the Georgia Normal school and relieve it of the necessity of dealing with this corporation.

The Jenkins bill was then passed by a vote of 129 to 7.

To Increase Salary.

The house passed by a vote of 103 to 8 the bill by Mr. Alexander, of DeKalb, to increase the salary of the clerk to the railroad commission from $1,200 to $1,800 a year. Mr. Alexander, Mr. Stovall, of Chatham, and others spoke briefly to show that the services of the present able clerk to the commission, George F. Montgomery, were worth every cent of the proposed increase and, if anything, even more. The debate took a somewhat wide range, turning upon the value of the railroad commission as an administrative body to the state.

The house adjourned until 3 o'clock p. m.

Mayors Are Heard From.

At the opening of the afternoon session of the house, a telegram from Mayor Bridges Smith, of Macon, secretary of the convention of Georgia mayors now in session in Griffin, was read. In this telegram Mayor Smith said the convention had just adopted a resolution urging the legislature to strike out the paragraph from the general tax bill, putting an occupation tax on foreign corporations, on the ground that it would interfere with the state's industrial progress. The convention also urged that the general assembly pass the resolution offered by the Chatham delegation, to exempt municipal and county bonds from taxation. The telegram was placed upon the house journal as information.

"Oats" Bill is Passed.

The house passed by a vote of 80 to 0 the bill by Mr. Calvin, of Richmond, known as the "oats" bill. At the session of 1904, an act was passed prohibiting the shipment into Georgia of cotton seed seed cotton, oats and other products from Texas and other sections which are infected with the cotton boll weevil. It has been realized by the agricultural department and others who were interested in the boll weevil law, that much injustice was done in putting oats under thh ban, since they do not convey the boll weevil, and Mr. Calvin's bill as passed by the house, simply exempts oats from the operation of that law.

Codifying Bill Goes Over.

After the house had spent more than an hour yesterday in debating in committee of the whole, the resolution by Mr. Blackburn, of Fulton, providing for the appointment of one commissioner to codify all the laws of the state passed since the adoption of the code of 19005 was tabled, which means that it cannot be enacted into law at this session. The bill provided for the appointment of a commissioner at $2,000 a year, an assistant at $100 a month and a stenographer at $66 a month. Several members thought the state should have a new code entirely. Others thought the appropriation made was too large, and that the work could be done in three or four months instead of requiring two years, as allowed in the bill. Owing to the inability of the members of the house to get anywhere near together on the subject, it was thought best to table the bill for the session.

Relief of J. W. Wilcox.

The house passed without objection the resolution by Mr. Davis, of Bibb, authorizing the trustees of the state sanitarium to pay Captain J. W. Wilcox, of Macon, $600 which has been due him for nearly twenty years for services rendered as chief engineer of that institution.

The house was about to take a vote on a bill by Dr. Whitley, of Douglas, to pay pensions to confederate soldiers as indigents where they own less than $1,200 worth of property, have an income of less than $100 a year, are over seventy years old and are unable to do manual labor, when the hour of adjournment arrived, and the house adjourned until 8 o'clock p. m.

SENATE ADOPTS TAX MEASURE

Liquor Taxes Placed at $300 Instead of $500.

Several Other Changes Were Made in Bill as Passed by House. There Was Considerable Discussion but Committee's Report Was Upheld.

Exactly as reported to the senate by Senator A. O. Blalock, chairman of the finance committee, and substantially as reported to the house by Chairman Wise, of the ways and means committee, the general tax act was passed by the senate yesterday, and immediately transmitted back to the house for concurrence in several amendments.

Few changes were made in the bill as passed by the house. The senate reduced the tax on dispensaries, bar rooms, clubs and foreign breweries from $500, as passed by the house, to $300. This is an increase of $100 over the tax on these concerns last year.

The anticipated fight on the graduated occupation tax on foreign corporations did not develop in the senate, and the section relating to these corporations was adopted as passed by the house.

The section relating to telegraph companies, and also the section relating to packing houses, was adopted by the senate as passed by the house.

The tax on dealers in cigarettes was reduced by the senate from $25 to $10.

Senator Miller made a strong fight for a tax of 2 1-2 per cent upon the gross income of dispensaries, but after considerable debate the senate refused to adopt an amendment offered by him to this effect.

Senator Miller then contended for a liquor tax of $200, the same as last year, on dispensaries, bar rooms, clubs and foreign breweries, but the senate adopted the amendments of the finance committee placing these taxes at $300.

By unanimous vote the senate yesterday adopted the house resolution providing for an appropriation to meet the increase in salaries of the governor, judges of the supreme court and judges of the superior courts.

Amendments to Tax Act.

The amendments to the general tax act passed by the senate yesterday were the following:

Upon matrimonial and nuptial bureaus $100. Heretofore no tax has been placed on these concerns.

The section relating to itinerant lightning rod dealers or agents was amended so that no one would be exempted from its operation. The section originally excepted confederate soldiers.

An amendment offered by Senator Miller providing that a tax xof 2 1-2 per cent on the gross income of the dispensaries of the state was lost.

Senator Blalock, of the twenty-sixth, opposed the amendment on the ground that it would defeat its own object, as it would require a number of inspectors or auditors to keep up with the dispensaries' sales, and they would not be able to keep up with them. He argued that the only fair way to get at them was by a stated occupation tax.

Senatof McHenry was unalterably opposed to the gross income tax, arguing that it would be detrimental to the town and counties in which dispensaries are located. He referred to the situation in Rome, his home town, to show the soundness of his argument.

Senator Miller made a strong speech in favor of his amendment, contending that it was fair and just to require a gross income tax.

Senator Hand was strongly opposed to the amendment on the ground that if passed it would seriously impair the temperance cause in Georgia, as it would mean the returning to bar rooms and dispensing with dispensaries.

Senator Carithers opposed the income tax.

Senator Wheatley called for the previous qquestion and on vote the amendment was lost.

Senator Miller immediately offered another amendment to this section, reducing the tax from $300, as proposed by the senate committee, to $200. This amendment was lost.

Senator Miller argued in favor of his amendment, contending that $200 was enough and he saw no reason for the increase to $300.

The amendment by the senate committee providing for a tax of $300 was adopted.

Senator Miller continued to fight for a reduction in the tax, offering an amendment to the section providing for a tax on social clubs. The committee offered to amend this section reducing the tax from $500 to $300. Senator Miller wished to further reduce this amount to $200.

His amendment was lost. The senate adopted the amendment offered by the committee making the tax $300.

Stood by Committee.

The senate showed its determination to stand by the finance committee on the various liquor taxes, adopting the reduction from $500 to $300 all along the line.

In order to save time, Senator Strange wanted the debate on each section to five minutes. This was opposed by Senator Steed and Senator A. O. Blalock. Senator Strange withdrew his motion.

An amendment proposed by Senator King providing for an increase in the tax on wineries from $50 to $100 was lost.

The tax of $1,000 on bucket shops was passed without discussion by the senate.

The tax on foreign breweries was reduced from $500 to $300 as proposed by the committee.

The reduction in the cigarette tax from $25 to $10 offered by the committee was adopted after some discussion, Senator Steed contending that $10 was a fair and just tax.

The amendment proposed by the finance committee relating to bottling works providing that only concerns having gross sales of $3,000 and over should be required to pay the tax was adopted.

Occupation Tax.

The occupation tax on foreign corporations was passed without discussion after being amended as proposed by the committee to the effect that when the payment of the tax in any one county was made it relieved corporations from payment in any other county.

It was expected that a fight on this section would be made in the senate, but not a member of the upper house raised his voice against the section when read.

Following are the provisions for the taxation of foreign corporations as passed by both houses:

Agents or corporations with a capital stock of not exceeding $25,000, $5; $25,000 and not over $100,000, $10; $100,000 and not over $300,000, $25; $300,000 and not over $500,000, $50; $500,000 and not over $1,000,000, $75; all over $1,000,000, $100.

A substitute for the section relating to building and loan associations offered by Senator Miller, and providing that in a county where the association is located and chartered, the tax shall be assessed upon the capital stock upon which no loan has been made, was defeated by the senate.

The tax bill as amended was passed by a vote of 28 to 0.

Increased Salaries.

By unanimous consent upon request of Senator Hand, the house resolution providing for the increase in salaries of the governor, supreme court judges and superior court judges was taken up immediately after the passage of the tax act and unanimously passed by the senate.

This resolution provided for the increase in the salaries of these officials which was not provided for in the appropriation bill last year.

GRADY COUNTY UP TO SENATE

It Is Believed Favorable Consideration Will Be Given It.

Strong Showing Made By the People. Why This County Should Be Created—The Friends of the Late Henry W. Grady Are Enthusiastic For It.

Of all new counties which have been favorably acted upon by the house of representatives and which are now before the senate, perhaps the most meritorious showing was made by Grady county, named in memory of the lamented Henry W. Grady. In many respects the showing made by this county is most remarkable and evidences in a startling manner the truly wonderful development that is taking place in south Georgia.

Grady county is created out of the two counties of Decatur and Thomas and enjoys the unique position of not only being among the large counties of the state, in area, population and wealth, but of leaving the two parent counties still ranking among the very first in these respects.

Figures Touching Parent Counties.

The figures are surprising and will tell the story better than words. For the two parent counties they stand as follows:

Old Counties	Area. Sq. miles.	Population.	Tax values.
Decatur	1,068	36,375	$ 7,562,030
Thomas	788	33,872	7,136,827
Totals	1,856	70,247	$14,698,857

Truly it would seem that it would be impossible to create a county anywhere, if it cannot be done out of such great area and popultion and tax values as these counties present. The area of these two counties is as large as, if not larger, than that of some of the states of this union, and this alone would indicate the propriety and need of the creation of the new county.

Necessity and Will of People.

That a new county is needed there was abundantly shown by the evidence submitted before the joint committees, including that of the judge of the superior court of the circuit, and the almost unanimous desire of the people living within the limits of the proposed new county of Grady.

Out of a total of fourteen hundred and fifty-three (1,453) registered white voters living in the territory of the new county, affidavits were submitted from all but one hundred and twenty-one (121) showing the great need for the new county and their desire that it should be created.

Figures Touching Grady County.

Grady county will take from the two parent counties the following in area, population and tax values:

Grady takes.	Area. Sq. miles.	Population.	Tax values
From Decatur	244	9,283	$1,348,247
From Thomas	209	8,431	967,379
Grady will have	453	17,714	$2,315,626

The new county of Grady will thus take high rank among the counties of the state in these essential particulars of area, population and tax values. In area it will exceed that of ninety-one counties; in population it will exceed that of eighty-five counties and in taxable wealth it will exceed that of seventy-two counties of the state as they stood in 1904.

Condition of Old Counties After Grady is Created.

The creation of Grady county will leave its two parent counties still in magnificent shape in these respects as follows:

Grady leaves.	Area. Sq miles.	Population	Tax values
In Decatur Co.	824	27,092	$6,213,783
In Thomas Co.	579	25,441	6,169,448

From which it will be seen that if Grady county will rank high among the counties in these respects, it will yet leave each of the parent counties among the very first in the state in area, population and taxable wealth; the only criterions by which a county can be measured.

It has been said that Grady county created itself by the sheer force of its own merit, and the figures we have given would seem to show that this is true, and that if any county should be created by the legislature, this is the one.

Effect on Old Counties.

Under the test rules applied by the committee it remains to be considered whether any injurious effects would result to the old counties, and if they are sufficient to prevent the creation of the new county of Grady.

What effect would it have on the cost of county government to the old counties? This is shown in the following table:

County.	Tax rate. 1904.	Tax values. 1904.
Decatur	4.20	$6,394,796
Thomas	4.10	6,674,814

Cost of Govt. 1904.	Tax values 1905.	Tax values left in Co.
$21,256.63	$7,562,030	$6,213,783
18,941.70	7,136,827	6,169,448

Parent Counties Can Reduce Tax Rate After Grady is Created.

These figures demonstrate the astonishing fact that even if the cost of county government of each of the old counties remains what it was last year, yet the increase in their tax values has been so great that even after Grady county is created they can each reduce their tax rate to 4 mills, and still have several thousand dollars of revenue more apiece than it cost last year to run their county governments.

Gain in Representation in Legislature

What would be the effect on the representation of the old counties in the legislature?

No change whatever can take place before the next reapportionment following after the census of 1910. This reapportionment could not be had before 1912, so that until then, at least, the representation of the two parent counties will remain as it is. At their present rapid rate of growth the outlook is that when the reapportionment does take place these two parent counties and Grady county will together have six, and perhaps seven, representatives, as against five for the two old counties at present.

Between 1890 and 1900 Decatur county's population increased at the rate of forty-seven per cent (47) and Thomas county at the rate of eighteen (18) per cent, and the territory in Grady county may safely be taken to have increased at the rate of 32 per cent, which is the mean between the other two. At these respective rates of increase, by the year 1912, Decatur county will have a population of over 36,000; Thomas will have 28,646 and Grady will have 21,681. The total population of the three counties will be 86,332, as against 70,247 for the parent counties today.

It is therefore evident that there will be a gain rather than a loss in the representation of that part of the state.

Colored and White Population.

The only other point for consideration is the relative proportions of whites and blacks. At the present time the race adjustment is as follows (according to census 1900):

Decatur county has 13,696 whites to 15,758 blacks, an excess of blacks of 2,062.

Thomas county has 13,626 whites to 17,450 blacks, an excess of blacks of 3,824.

Grady county takes from Decatur a total population which is estimated to be approximately evenly divided between whites and blacks. Assuming it to be even fifty-five (55) per cent white and forty-five (45) per cent black, it would mean that Grady takes from Decatur 4,240 whites and 3,070 blacks.

Grady takes from Thomas a total population of seven thousand four hundred and twenty-nine (7,429), which is estimated to be approximately fifty-five (55) per cent white and forty-five (45) per cent black, which would mean that Grady takes from Thomas, say four thousand and eighty-five (4,085) whites and three thousand three hundred and forty-four (3,344) blacks.

The two parent counties would thus be left with race population as follows:

Decatur with nine thousand four hundred and fifty-six (9,456) whites to twelve thousand, six hundred and eighty-eight (12,688) blacks, an excess of blacks of 3,232.

Thomas with nine thousand five hundred and forty-one (9,541) whites to fourteen thousand one hundred and six (14,106) blacks, an excess of blacks of 4,565.

It thus appears that each of the parent counties have a black majority at present and will continue to have it after Grady county is created but that—

Decatur's present black majority will only be increased from 2,062 to 3,232, increase 1,170.

Thomas' present black majority will be increased from 3,824 to 4,565, increase 741.

These totals of black majorities in Decatur of 3,232 and in Thomas of 4,565 are, comparatively speaking, as small as exist in most counties in Georgia which have black majorities and become insignificant when compared with the black majorities in many counties.

The United States census of 1900 discloses the following interesting and in some respects significant comparisons as to some of the counties having black majorities.

Burke has a black majority of 19,121, Brooks 3,203, Coweta 3,460, Dougherty 8,777, Dooly 2,801, Early 3,102, Glynn 3,891, Greene 5,892, Hancock 8,979, Harris 6,363, Houston 11,871, Liberty 4,135, Lee 7,330, Monroe 7,048, Oglethorpe 6,605, Stewart 7,818, Terrell 7,675, Thomas 3,824, Troup 6,662, Washington 6,617 and Wilkes 6,424.

In the face of these figures, as to conditions existing in other counties, the comparatively small black majorities left in Decatur and Thomas cannot be considered sufficiently material to prevent the creation of the new county of Grady when all the other conditions not only justify, but demand it.

STRUCK AUTO WITH IRON PIPE

T. C. Baldwin and Dr. Monroe Smith in Police Court.

Dr. Monroe Smith drove his automobile so close to T. C. Baldwin at the corner of Marietta and Fairlie streets last Saturday that the wheel struck Mr. Baldwin and barked his shin. Dr. Smith did not stop his machine, and Mr. Baldwin threw a piece of iron pipe at the doctor and battered a hole in the auto.

This was the story told in the recorder's court yesterday morning before Councilman William Oldknow.

Mr. Baldwin was working at the new gas and electric building when the doctor came by in his automobile. He felt that after he had been injured the doctor might have stopped and made some inquiries if not apologies. Dr. Smith, he stated, believed that Mr. Baldwin wanted to have a personal difficulty and to avoid such a thing he rode off in his automobile.

Mr. Baldwin, who threw the piece of iron pipe with great force, admitted that he intended to hit the doctor instead of the automobile.

Dr. Smith had a case made against Mr. Baldwin for disorderly conduct, and Mr. Baldwin had the doctor charged with the reckless running of an automobile.

Acting Recorder Oldknow said the evidence did not show that Dr. Smith was running the automobile recklessly and he dismissed the case against him. He fined Mr. Baldwin $10.75.

Cassilly-Quillian.

ON Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock Miss Laurie May Cassilly, of St. Louis, was married to Dr. W. E. Quillian, of Atlanta. The bride is the only daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Cassilly. The ceremony was performed by Dr. W. F. Quillian, of Dalton, father of the groom.

The bride wore a white satin gown, elaborately trimmed in real lace. Beautiful at all times, she was strikingly so on the occasion of her wedding. Both in voice and piano, Mrs. Quillian is one of the most accomplished musicians among the artists of St. Louis. For some time she has been the leading soprano in the choir of one of the largest chruches in the city.

Dr. Quillian is a graduate of Emory college, the Atlanta College of Physicians and Surgeons, has taken postgraduate work at Johns Hopkins and also at Bellevue, New York.

For several months he was acting marine surgeon for the United States army, with headquarters at Savannah. He is one of the most prominent of the younger physicians of Atlanta.

Dr. and Mrs. Quillian will arrive in the city this week, and in the near future will be at home to their friends at 65 Park avenue.

Tomlin-Butler.

MARRIED, at Aethelwold hotel, Brevard, N. C., August 15, Miss Stella A. Tomlin, of Butler, Ga., to Mr. Wester J. Butler, of the same place. Rev. Charles E. Dowman, pastor of the First Methodist church, Atlanta, performed the ceremony. Mr. Butler is the son of Mr. J. W. Butler, of Athens, Ga., who represents the Chattanooga Plow Company, and Miss Tomlin is a daughter of the late Colonel W. G. Tomlin, a well known and prosperous builder of southwest Georgia. Mr. and Mrs. Butler will spend some time at Toxaway inn and will return to their home in Butler, Ga., September 1.

Fall-Ellis.

THE marriage of Miss Sarah Fall, of Savannah, and Mr. Earl V. Ellis, of Piedmont, Ala., was solemnized yesterday at 12 o'clock at the residence of Mr. C. Milton Fall, 64 Bass street.

Mr. Ellis was accompanied to Atlanta by Rev. J. M. Wells, pastor of the Baptist church at Piedmont, and the bride by her mother, Mrs. Alice C. Fall.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. Ellis and his bride left for South Carolina, and on their return will be at home to their friends in Piedmont, Ala.

The bride is an accomplished musician and a young woman of charming grace and dignity. Mr. Ellis is one of the prominent young business men of Piedmont and is connected with the Bass foundry and iron mines.

Lewis-Beggs.

ANNOUNCEMENTS have been received in Atlanta of the wedding of Miss Daisy Lewis and Mr. James G. Beggs, which occurred last Wednesday at the Church of St. Xavier, New York city. The bride is a charming and popular young woman and a native of New York. The groom is also a New Yorker, but was in business in Atlanta for some time and has many friends in this city who extend congratulations and best wishes to the young couple.

DEFENDED BY BOTH HIS WIVES

Haynes Bound Over on Bigamy Charge in Justice Court.

Despite the fact that both of his alleged wives were defending him, John Haynes, the young man charged with bigamy, was bound over on that charge yesterday afternoon by Justice of the Peace Virgil Jones. Bond was fixed at $1,000.

Haynes, it will be remembered, was arrested in Mobile, Ala., several days ago, and Governor Terrell sent requisition papers have him. He was brought back to Atlanta and rested in the Tower until the trial yesterday. He was visited by both of his alleged wives.

Mrs. T. N. Moore, the mother of Miss Maud Owens, alleged to be the second wife of Haynes, was the prosecutor in the case. Both Miss Owens and Mrs. John Haynes No. 1, formerly Miss Victoria Cobb ,of Anderson, S. C., were in court.

The latter was not allowed to testify, the judge ruling that she was the wife of the defendant and therefore disqualified as a witness.

The second wife was allowed to testify, however, and her words threw havoc for a while in the ranks of the prosecutor and her friends.

"He is a nice man and a gentleman," she said to the judge in speaking of Haynes, "and I intend to stick to him to the last, and, if possible, get him out of this trouble. I love him."

Mrs. Moore said Haynes married the girl on December 17 last, and that in January the first wife came to her home in Howell Station and claimed her husband. She testified that he uttered an exclamation upon seeing her and then "lit out of the back door."

T. S. Garner testified that Haynes was working under him in the Exposition cotton mills when his first wife came to see him, called Haynes out and gave him a tongue lashing. Garner said he investigated the matter, and Haynes said his wife was quarrelling with him just because he got married again.

Haynes said Mrs. Moore had furnished him with the money to get married; that she had told him that she had investigated and found he was divorced from his first wife, and had handed him a letter from the court clerk saying that the divorce had been granted.

He said further that he employed a lawyer to get the divorce, had the papers to show for it and that when the lawyer wrote him that if he gave him $20 more the would let him know if the divorce was granted. Mrs. Moore protested and took the matter in her own hands.

It was then endeavored by the defense to impeach Mrs. Moore. She was asked if she had been run out of Danlonega, Ga., but would not answer. Judge Jones told her she did not have to answer the question. The information was brought out that Mrs. Moore had been married three times.

In default of bond Haynes is now in the Tower. His first wife was seen to give him some money after the judge rendered his decision. Haynes says both of his alleged wives will stick to him to the last.

Colonel Lowndes Calhoun represented the prosecution and Colonel Frank Harrison the defense.

SUB-COMMITTEE TO MEET TODAY

Will Assemble at Noon in Office of T. F. Corrigan.

For the purpose of arranging for the white primary that is to be held this fall the subcommittee of the city executive committee will meet today at noon in the office of its chairman, Thomas F. Corrigan, in the Century building.

The meeting will be merely preparatory to others that will follow. The committee will organize and will appoint the various committees of the subcommittee that are to have charge of features of the work.

After the work of organizing and other matters of that kind have been attended to the subcommittee will adjourn until some time next week, when managers and clerks who will be in charge of the primary will be selected.

The subcommittee is composed of Thomas F. Corrigan, of the second ward, chairman; R. E. Campbell, of the first ward; Charles L. Chosewood, of the third ward; Charles N. Allen, of the fourth ward; Judge Russell Shirley, of the fifth ward; Frank Malone, of the sixth ward; Luther Z. Rosser, of the seventh ward; James T. Wright, of the eighth ward, and Chairman Hugh T. Dorsey, of the city executive committee, ex-officio.

City Clerk W. J. Campbell, secretary of the city executive committee, and by virtue of that office secretary and treasurer of the subcommittee, will meet with the body at noon today.

TAGGART FACES GRAFT CHARGE

Judge Smyser Created Sensation by Referring to Silver Service.

Wooster, Ohio, August 16.—The sensation of the week in the Taggart trial was started by Judge Smyser today, when he attempted to follow up the direct charge of grafting brought by him against Captain Taggart. The matter was dropped then, but on second cross examination today Smyser again recurred to it.

"From whom did you receive the silver service in Manila, when in charge of the transport relief?" demanded Smyser.

"From the Farnum Boyd Shipbuilding Company," said Taggart.

"Was there not a racket in Manila just before you left?"

Taggart was not given an opportunity to answer.

"That man is manufacturing sensations," shouted Attorney Sterling, counsel for Taggart, pointing at Judge Smyser.

Here Taggart broke in, trembling with passion:

"If there is anything reflecting on my character as an officer of the army, I want it known, and probed," he cried.

Judge Eason calmed the witness and forbade the continuance of this line of questioning.

AN INCORRIGIBLE YOUNGSTER.

Only Nine Years old, Brooks Goodwin Proves Too Much for the Police.

The most incorrigible youngster that the police of Atlanta ever had to deal with was arraigned in the recorder's court before Councilman Pattillo yesterday. He is Brooks Goodwin, the son of Mrs. Maggie Goodwin, of 54 Wyman street. The boy is only nine years of age, and he secured groceries from a merchant on forged orders and sold them; stole his brother's watch and pawned it, and rocked all the neighbors' houses and cursed them when they asked him to desist.

The acting recorder sentenced him to be held until he could be placed on probation. After being locked up the boy tried to break down the prison door and when remonstrated with by the custodian, he cursed that officer and hurled at him the most vile epithets.

Councilman Pattillo decided to have the boy whipped and then placed on probation. He accordingly sent for Mrs. Goodwin and he requested her to give the youngster a sound thrashing, which she consented to do.

Property Transfers.

Real estate transactions handed to Clerk Broyles yesterday for record were not numerous. Neither was there a paper of unusual interest. The record for the day follows:

Deed.—Harper Brothers, a corporation of the State of Illinois, to J. A. Carlisle, of Fulton county, a lot on Marietta and Emmet street, Consideration, $840.

Warranty Deed.—John W. Alexander to J. S. Morgan, both of Fulton county, twenty-five acres of land, situated in the 14th district of Fulton county. Consideration, $700.

Deed.—J. L. Campbell to Elizabeth Sydney Herring, both of Fulton county, a lot on Park avenue and Hansell street. Consideration, $1,800.

Deed for Title.—J. L. Kelly to Richard E. Pouncey, both of Fulton county, a lot on Pavillion and Grant streets. Consideration, $4,400.

Warranty Deed.—Percy T. Dashwood to the East Atlanta Land Company, both of Fulton county, a lot on Edgewood avenue. Consideration, $1,800.

Murder Laid to Denlin.

Sumter, Oreg., August 16.—S. T. Devlin, a locomotive engineer, has been arrested by Sheriff Steele, of Cattawaurgus county, New York, charged with the murder of a stranger with whom he quarreled at Olean, in that county. Devlin will be taken back to New York.

THEATERS.

The Casino.

All Atlanta seems interested in the vaudeville carnival at the Casino this week. It is agreed that the combination of talent has not been equaled this season, and it is a notable fact that this bill has drawn most representative people, and that the feature acts are liberally applauded by these unusual theatergoers.

Charmion, the star of vaudeville, is the feature of the bill. Her wonderful trapeze performance has enlisted more attention than any other feature yet produced here. And the other acts are just the sort that suit local tastes. Flora has scored strong, while Kingsley and Lewis have put away a laughing hit that will be one of their prize keepsakes.

Manager Wells is arranging for another strong vaudeville bill for next week. He has hooks out for a star act, and perhaps he will be able to induce the big feature to come south. The number will be surrounded by the best possible talent.

Grocers who carry Burnett's Vanilla need not worry about pure food laws. No state board has ever questioned its purity.

INFANT CRUELLY MURDERED.

Body of Little White Baby Found at Corner of Beckwith and Vine Streets.

The body of a little white boy, which had evidently been murdered, was found early yesterday morning near the corner of Beckwith and Vine streets by a negro soldier, Monroe Head.

The body was nude, and was only a few feet from the sidewalk, being in sight of anybody who passed that corner and chanced to glance in the direction of the lot where it lay. The negro saw the body and notified the officers.

Call Officer Beavers investigated the case, and turned the body over to Hilburn & Poole, undertakers. The coroner was notified and an inquest was held in Hilburn & Poole's parlors at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Dr. J. W. Hurt, county physician, held a post mortem examination of the body. He said the child had lived probably a few days, and testified that from all indications it was murdered in a most brutal and heartless manner. The jury was out only a few seconds before reaching a verdict of murder.

JAMES REDDICK HOME IN FRONT

Six to One Shot Took Albany Stake.

Jockey Callahan, Who Rode Malden, the Odds-on-Favorite, in the Steeplechase, Was Seriously Injured and May Not Recover.

Saratoga, N. Y., August 16.—In the steeplechase race here today Jockey Callahan, who rode Malden, the odds-on favorite, was seriously injured by a fall and was taken to the Saratoga hospital in an unconscious condition. He sustained a severe concussion of the brain and may not recover.

James Reddick, a 6 to 1 shot, won the stake race, the Albany, in a gallop, two lengths separating him from Ravena, who was off badly, and closed a big gap. She was a length better than Billy Phillips, who closed strong. Jacobite, the favorite, died in the stretch. Speedway, the favorite in the first, who won by three lengths, was disqualified for crowding Sufficiency and College Girl on the far turn. Burleigh, in the sixth, was the only favorite that cashed. Summaries:

FIRST RACE—Five and a half furlongs, selling: Sufficiency, 103 (Bell), 10 to 1, won; College Girl, 98 (Baird), 100 to 1, second; Bantam, 106 (Lyman), 40 to 1, third. Time, 1:09 3-5. Ladnarion, Red Star, Youth, Cary, Ruth W, Aviston, Gentian, Belden, R. U. Arn, Annie Oakley, Fast Flight, Abjure, Chandos, Spring Bank, Cat's Eye and Mollie Donohue ran. Speedway finished first, but was disqualified for fouling.

SECOND RACE—Steeplechase, short course: Balzac, 146 (Jackson), 6 to 1, won; Plous, 146 (Holman), 4 to 5, second; Paul Aker, 148 (J. Kelly), 10 to 1, third. Time, 4:30. Malden and Duke of Connaught fell; Decimo refused.

THIRD RACE—Handicap, mile: Judge Himes, 113 (Burns), 7 to 2, won; Sonoma Bell, 114 (Diggins), 4 to 1, second; Workman, 111 (Miller), 14 to 5, third. Time, 1:43 3-5. Foncasta, Adriutha, Sals, Orthodox and Santon ran.

FOURTH RACE—The Albany, 6 furlongs: James Reddick, 112 (Martin), 5 to 1, won; Ravena, 107 (Buchanan), 5 to 1, second; Bill Phillips, 114 (Redfern), 14 to 5, third. Time, 1:15 4-5. Jacobite, Velours, Bayonet, The Irishman, High Chance and Henry Watterson ran.

FIFTH RACE—Mile and three-sixteenths, selling: Saladin, 97 (Perry), 20 to 1, won; Elwood, 98 (Moriarity), 4 to 1, second; Stroller, 108 (Buchanan), 7 to 5, third. Time, 2:03 1-5. Lord Badge, Jack Young, Glisten, Palette, Liberia and Supreme Court ran.

SIXTH RACE—Handicap, 6 furlongs: Burleigh, 126 (Dominick), 8 to 5, won; King Pepper, 107 (Walsh), 8 to 1, second; Athlone, 112 (Wishard), 15 to 1, third. Time, 1:15 1-5. Funiculaire, Bohemia, Light Brigade, Speed Smith and Foxy Kane ran.

Close of Season.

Columbus, Ga., August 16.—(Special.)—The Columbus baseball season has come to an end and the local team will now disband. During the season it has played many amateur and semi-professional teams of Georgia and Alabama cities and towns and has made a fine record. It has played forty-two games, winning thirty-two, and the percentage of .762 is regarded as quite good. Next year Columbus will probably be in the South Georgia or some other league.

PIRATES TAKE ENTIRE SERIES

Four Shreveport Infielders Were Out of the Game.

Chattanooga, Tenn., August 16.—Though crippled by the absence from the game of the entire infield, the locals made it three straights from Memphis today. The home team was unable to find Brown until the eighth inning, when seven hits and three bases on balls scored seven runs. Dumb playing and three hits gave the visitors three runs in the first and after that they were able to secure but one single off Breitenstein's splendid pitching. Score:

GEORGIA GAMES.

Broxton 2, Fitzgerald 1.

Douglas, Ga., August 16.—(Special.)—Broxton won over Fitzgerald yesterday in a match game of ball, resulting in a score of 2 to 1. The features of the game were Butler's pitching and Argo's catching for Broxton and the work of Bruner, shortstop for Fitzgerald. Broxton has won all her games she has played this season and expects a game with Douglas, Nashville and Waycross in a week or two.

Games Played Today.

Nashville in Atlanta.
Shreveport in Little Rock.
Birmingham in Montgomery.

The Atlanta baseball team, having secured an even break in the Birmingham series while in Birmingham, will open up at Piedmont park this afternoon in a double-header event, Nashville being the opposing club.

Nashville has been playing a queer article of ball recently, and it is hard to judge her real strength or to tell just when the Finnites are going to play championship ball or take a balloon trip, for the club is likely to do both things.

Up to date Atlanta has the edge on the Nashville team, having won a big majority of the games played. The odds seem to be in favor of the home team winning the series at least.

Big Raymond will probably pitch in one of the games today, as it his turn, Burnum and Zellers having already performed in the Baron series.

Moren is booked for the other game. All that is needed now for two good games and a contented crowd of fans is good weather, and this has not yet been promised, showers being the prediction of the weather man.

In the series just closed with the Barons, Atlanta won eight games to ten for Birmingham, so for the the second year Vaughan's team has Atlanta beaten in the intersectional battle.

AT LATONIA

MAJOR DAINGERFIELD WON IN EASY CANTER

Cincinnati, August 16.—Major Daingerfield, the great handicap horse, running in the colors of his new owner, simply cantered home in the handicap at a mile and 100 yards, the feature event on the card at Latonia today. Four horses went to the post, with the winner carrying most of the money.

Radtke again carried off the riding honors. Out of five mounts, the little fellow scored three victories and finished second twice. Summaries:

FIRST RACE—Seven furlongs: Chaney, 87 (Radtke), 23 to 5, won; Lady Lavish, 103 (C. Morris), 17 to 5, second; Chief Bush, 97 (Duggan), 40 to 1, third. Time 1:37. Strader, Belltoone, Lady Lou and Denice also ran.

SECOND RACE—Seven furlongs: Darthula, 87 (Radtke), even, won; Picture Hat, 87 (Schade), 13 to 5, second; Dr. Wang, 98 (C. Morris), 8 to 1, third. Time 1:39. Ollista and Fleuron also ran.

THIRD RACE—Five and half furlongs: Charlatan, 97 (Radtke), 3 to 2, won; Lilita, 100 (C. Morris), 12 to 5, second; Port Worth, 97 (J. Harris), 8 to 1, third. Time 1:14 3-5. Queen Caroline, Anna Smith, America II and Fair View also ran.

FOURTH RACE—Mile and 100 yards: Major Daingerfield, 116 (E. Morrison), 14 to 5, won; Red Leaf, 100 (Radtke), 17 to 10, second; Intense, 92 (J. Hicks), 8 to 1, third. Time 1:57 3-5. Haviland also ran.

FIFTH RACE—Steeplechase, short course: New Amsterdam, 132 (Ford), 2 to 1, won; Mr. Rose, 136 (Archibald), 7 to 5, second; Onoyx II, 127 (Russell), 20 to 1, third. Time 3:09 1-5. Kilmorie, Jolo and Poorlands also ran.

SIXTH RACE—Mile and three-sixteenths: Foreigner, 98 (Cheatham), 10 to 1, won; Fonsoluca, 102 (Radtke), 7 to 10, second; Handy Bill, 90 (Morris), 13 to 5, third. Time 2:13. Male Hanlon, Brown Vail also ran.

BOB WALTHOUR STILL WINNING

Paris Papers Pay Tributes to Great Atlanta Rider.

Bobby Walthour is still leading the European riders across the tape by as wide a margin as the Pelicans are now leading the rest of the Southern League teams.

Since going to Europe Walthour has won the championship of the world and every race in which he has entered, of which any notice has been received in America.

Le Auto, a well known French newspaper, devoted largely to sports, had this to say of the southerner after he had won the world championship for a second time:

"Bobby Walthour is the champion of the world for 1905. No victor could be more agreeable to the sportsman, no matter from what country, than this wonderful rider, who, scarcely landed in Europe, has for the second time written his name on the glorious list of champions of the world."

Here is an account of Walthour's last race from the same paper:

"It was a very agreeable evening, that of yesterday at Buffalo. There were a large number of people present, filling boxes and other seats, the weather was agreeable after a very unpleasant day, and the sport was good, these being a few of the incidents of those hours which we passed at Neuilly.

"The victory of Walthour on the course of 50 kilometers was strongly applauded and justly so. The champion of the world for 1904 and 1905 is really a superior man. Last evening, as is usual, he put forth an effort which could not be resisted. In the lead by 10 kilometers, he continued to ride rapidly and regularly, beating his opponent, Lorgeou, who rode better than the others.

"Designedly do I employ the singular, because Simar was never in the race on account of a breakdown to his motor. The more one sees of the details of these races the better one understands that the motor plays a very important part."

The writer finishes his story by giving a general roast to riders and to motor cyclists for not taking better care of their motors, and for inflicting long waits on the audience in attending to the details of the course.

ECZEMA
ITCHES AND BURNS

The return of warm weather means a return of torture to Eczema sufferers. The blood is charged with burning acids and acrid matter which is forced to the surface through the pores and glands, forming pustules which discharge a sticky fluid, and the itching is intense.

The doctors said I had pustular Eczema; it would break out in small white pustules, mostly on my face and hands, discharging a sticky fluid; crusts would form and drop off, leaving the skin red and inflamed. I was tormented with the itching and burning characteristic of the disease for five years, and during the time used various medicated soaps, ointments and washes, but these applications seemed to make me worse. After taking S. S. S. a short time I began to improve; the itching did not worry me so much. I continued the medicine, and soon all the ugly eruptions disappeared and my skin is now as clear as anybody's. I have not been troubled with any breaking out since.
Urbana, O. E. E. KELLY.

Sometimes the disease is in the dry form, and bran-like scales form on the skin, but the cause is the same—humors in the blood. Salves, cooling washes, powders and the like can do nothing more than relieve the itching, because they do not reach the acid-laden blood, the seat of the trouble. S. S. S. cures Eczema and all skin diseases by neutralizing the acids and carrying them off through the proper channels. When S. S. S. has done this the symptoms pass away, the blood is cooled and the disease is cured permanently. Nothing acts so promptly or surely in skin diseases as S. S. S., and it at the same time acts as a tonic to the entire system. Book on Skin Diseases and any medical advice without charge.

COTTON CLOSED AT SHARP NET LOSS

On an Early Bulge Bears Became Aggressive.

In Late Afternoon There Was Sharp Break Under Active Bear Pressure and Liquidation Closing Barely Steady 16 to 19 Points Lower.

New York, August 16.—After narrow irregularity during the early session the cotton market turned weak in the late trading and closed at a net decline of 16@19 points. The open was quiet at a decline of 1 to 3 points in response to lower cables. Less favorable weather and crop reports caused an early rally, which carried prices to a net advance of 1 to 2 points, but bears became more aggressive on the bulge, and the market later fluctuated around last night's prices until late in the afternoon, when there was a sharp break under active bear pressure and liquidation which seemed to be based on official confirmation of showers in Texas over Sunday. The close was barely steady and at the lowest point of the session. Sales were estimated at 200,000 bales. There were rumors all day that a new bull clique had been formed under southern leadership, but nothing developed in the market to substantiate such an impression, and the less favorable crop accounts from the eastern belt appeared to be attracting little outside support. Southern spot markets were generally quiet and unchanged.

New Orleans Cotton Market.

New Orleans, August 16.—Spot cotton steady. Sales 275. Quotations unchanged.

Futures opened steady with prices unchanged to 1 point down. Thereafter until noon the market fluctuated from 5 points above to 5 points below last evening's closing. The advance in cotton in Liverpool and in cotton goods at New York failed to have any effect on the bulls during the afternoon session, and prices fell away 15 to 20 points, nobody apparently caring to buy cotton at present prices. Reported heavy purchases here and in New York by prominent bulls evidently has no foundation in fact. In the trading October opened unchanged at 10.41, sold up to 10.45, and finally down t 10.25. The market closed quiet 16 to 17 points net lower.

The Dry Goods Market.

New York, August 16.—In the dry goods market today country jobbers and retailers, believing that the cotton goods market would not hold at the recent high level, became alarmed at the scarcity of merchandise and the increasing firmness of sellers. More advances in bleached cottons and staple ginghams were announced today. Many lines were absolutely sold up. The local jobbers did a record trade in prints and ginghams, as they were selling at less than the prices prices quoted by first hands.

The Liverpool Cotton Market.

Liverpool, August 16.—12:15 p. m.—Cotton, spot, quiet with prices steady; middling uplands 5.70; sales 5,000 bales; American 4,500; speculation and export 200; receipts 7,000; American 5,600.

COTTON—So much doubt has been cast upon the character of the government crop reporth, that Europe refuses to pay any attention to the poor report of yesterday. Liverpool advanced on buying by arbitrage brokers, and then not fully to the improvement here. Our local traders are very bearish, aggressive at all times in looking for lower prices based on the absence of European support. This view is held in face of the continued drought and extreme heat in Texas, where the temperatures are so high as to cause severe injury to a crop needing rain. With a small demand the aggressive attitude of the local trade has brounght about a moderate decline. Unless the weather changes we expect Europe will become uneasy at the prospect of a small yield at prevailing prices. Local selling continued to depress the market during the last hour, when selling orders came from many sources on respects of a shower in Texas. The local bearish sentiment is increased by this report and a much lower Liverpool is expected tomorrow. The spot market was quiet at 10 points decline.

Ware & Leland.

COTTON—The market came under the influence of probable showers in Texas. There were rains north of Texas and a low area west and cloudy weather reported in Texas. This led many to expect rain. It is not certain that the low area means anything. Heretofore every rain has gone around Texas leaving that state dry. Reprts now show that unless we have rain in Texas this week damage will occur. The crop is not promising enough to stand damage in Texas. The condition is far too low as it is. There is no question about the need of rain in many sections. If we get rain now the market will run off. If we get no rain this week prices will work higher. Under the circumstances it was not surprising that the market held steady, but was very dull. There is really nothing to be said about the market today. All were waiting for the rain. Upon the question of moisture in Texas hangs the price of cotton at the moment. With good rains, we should not be surprised to see a further break. With no rain there is every reason to buy cotton on all weak spots for a firmer market. The larger interests have covered short cotton to a great extent and are not likely to buy for higher prices unless the news gets very bad. If Texas gets no rain the market will start up of its own accord. There is little business at the moment.

WHEAT—There was fairly good buying at the start with local shorts covering, due to cold weather in the extreme northwest and rather firm cables, the short-being harped upon. Some of the buying came from the northwest and largely in age in Russian and French crops still December, the belief prevailing that the big September line had been changed over from September to December, and that the difference would widen out. A little more bullish sentiment prevailed, and a good many shorts covered, due to predictions of frost tonight, but we failed to notice any really good buying, and in the event of any further strength developing we would favor sales, as stocks are increasing here as such a rate that we will soon have 5,000,000 or over, and that will make a very respectable showing for this time of the year.

CORN—There was a rush to buy early on the cold weather in the extreme northwest and high temperatures in the southwest, the demand increasing when light frosts were predicted for South Dakota and north Nebraska tonight. Patten brokers bought September. There was commission house buying of May, largely in the way of covering shorts, while acceptances were reported small, although our advices indicate that farmers are selling very freely in central Illinois, being more than satisfied over crop prospects. The closing was strong. It is possible that local sentiment is too bearish, and it may allow of further advances.

OATS—The market worked up in sympathy with wheat and corn. Scalpers covered shorts and there was scattered buying, but elevator and receiving houses sold the futures, and as cash business was disappointing the closing prices were heavy.

PROVISIONS—The market turned weak and considerable realizing developed on selling by packers due to larger receipts of hogs that was a bearish feature, although cash trade said to be good. It looks as if prices would work some lower.

STOCKS—London reflected yesterday's action here by sending quotations for our stocks 1-8 to 1-2 below last night's close. The opening was weak and irregular, and the floor traders put out quite large line of stocks. It soon became evident, however, that very little stock was coming out on the reaction and when heavy supporting orders were sent in just below the market, the tone of trading changed and prices quickly went up. Traction stocks were strong and active and Copper rose over a point. Advance in American Locomotive was continued. The heaviest buyers in this stock were the specialists, and they gave up Harvey Fiske & sons. The Hoadley crowd are not bulling Locomotive and it is feared that Mr. Hoadley will not take hold of the stock because of the heavy accumulation by another crowd. Shortly after noon Reading commenced to advance and the rise continued until the close. We think it the most attractive stock on the list. Rock Island made further gain. Clarke, Dodge & Co. are again heavy buyers of Union Pacific. It looks as if the prediction of 150 will soon be realized. Stocks closed at the very top. Today's market shows that banking interests will not permit a reaction yet. We believe that a substantial rise in the market will take place soon.

Southern Exchange.

COTTON—Unfavorable cables and an indifferent feeling by the traders to become active in the market on either side resulted in a narrow and sluggish session, with a declining tendency in the whole option list. Evidence of local commission houses realizing was noted. The weather map was clearing in today's report, but showed rather heavy precipitation elsewhere, and conditions were considered unfavorable in view of the fact that bottom lands do not need rain and hill lands have had nearly enough. The exceptionally favorable condition of trade generally, especially the textile trade, would tend to substantiate the present level of prices. Some slight reaction, however, may follow receipts of new cotton and the indifference of spinners to purchase supplies. We do not believe a decline of any importance is probable. Crop damage reports and all information we have been able to gather will not permit us to estimate a yield beyond 10,500,000 bales. We are therefore of the opinion that the best results will be obtained on the long side of the market during the next six months.

The Metal Market.

New York, August 16.—Tin higher in London at £149 15s for spot and £149 for futures. Firm locally at 32.55@32.85.

Copper lower in London at £69 5s for both spot and futures. Firm here; lake and electrolytic 15.62 1-2@15.87 1-2; easting 15.25@15.50.

Lead unchanged at £13 18s 1d in London and at 4.60@4.70 in New York.

Iron higher abroad with Glasgow at 50s 6d and Middlesboro at 47s 4 1-2d. Locally steadier and unchanged; No. 1 foundry, northern, $16.25@17; No. 2 foundry northern $15.75@16.50; No. 1 foundry southern $15.75@16.75; No. 2 foundry southern $15.50@16.25.

White Star Buggy

We buy our wheels direct from the wheel-maker, because it is not practical for a buggy factory to make their own wheels.

We buy A-grade wheels in the white—the best to be had in the United States. We do our own tiring and finishing. If we bought our wheels with the tires on, ten chances to one; they'd come to you "wheel bound." And we do the finishing because it must match up with the body.

WHEAT MARKET WAS HELD FIRM

Crop Damage News from Russia and France Factor.

September Closed Practically at Best 1-2 to 5-8c Higher—Corn Held Steady on Strength in Wheat Closing 5-8 to 3-4c Higher.

Chicago, August 16.—Prediction of frost for South Dakota and northern Nebraska helped cause firmness in wheat today. September closed 1-2@5-8c up. Corn made a gain of 5-8@3-4c. Oats are unchanged. Provisions are down 10@17 1-2c.

Wheat at the outset had a bullish underton, influenced by reiteration of unfavorable crop news from Russia, similar reports from France and by bread riots in the south of Spain. Damage fom locusts in Argentina became a factor in the situation later and gave zest to a buying movement that began soon after the opening. September started 1-8c off to 1-8c up at 81 3-8@81 5-8c and was bid up to 82 1-8c. A large line sold out by brokers supposedly operating for a prominent long checked the upward trend and caused a loss of some of the gain. To the bullish foreign news was added reports of threatened frosts, bringing visions of a blight upon the brilliant prospects in the British northwest. September, after reacting to 81 7-8@82, was carried back by covering of short lines, touching 82@82 1-8c, at which price the market closed firm. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 125,000 bushels, compared with 332,500 bushels for two days a year ago. Primary receipts were [illegible],000 bushels, against 1,104,000 last week and 1,010,000 bushels a year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 260 cars, against 311 cars last week and 147 a year ago.

Corn opened easy, but acquired a firm tone when the frost predictions for the northwest were received. Sellers, who were not plentiful at the outset, became difficult to find, and short desiring to cover sales bid up prices. September, starting a shade to 1-8@1-4c down at 52 3-8@52 1-2c, advanced to 53 1-4@53 3-8c, closing firm at 53 1-8. Receipts 370 cars, 206 contract.

The strength in other grains influenced a steady tone in oats. There was changing in a moderat way. September closed steady at 25 7-8c after ranging between 26 1-8c and 25 3-4@25 7-8c.

Receipts of hogs being heavier than anticipated and their price 10c lower, the market for provisions ruled easy. September pork is down 17 1-2c at $14.20. Lard is off 12 1-2c at 6.67 1-2. Ribs 10c down at 8.60.

Estimated receipts tomorrow: Wheat 134 cars; corn 219 cars; oats 231 cars; hogs 30,000 head.

COTTON—The cotton market has been rather dull and featureless today. The opening was at a slight decline from yesterday's close, but trading was light and fluctuations very narrow. The bull crowd are absolutely without a leader, and consequently the market is for the time being entirely under the influence of a few New York professionals. Every one seems to be intimidated for the time being by the aggressiveness of the bears. The sentiment on the floor seems to be bullish, but this counts for nothing. Those who are talking higher prices are awed by the bear leaders and afraid to do anything until some strong leader puts in appearance. The opportunities each day are favorable for bull movement, and it is the general opinion that something s brewing. The present bearish sentiment is confined to a few professionals, while the underlying elements are strongly bullish. No one believes the talk of improvement in the crop will prove permanent. Also it is pointed out that the spinners are not buying cotton. But they are using it. This condition cannot last long. The demand through the past season has been enormous. The outlook for the coming season is that the consumption at a moderate estimate should be as large. Conservative estimates for the crop outlook place the yield between 10,000,000 and 10,500,000 bales, with the possibility of a very much smaller one. These facts when taken with the belief that the planters will prove more organized in their holding policy, do not indicate that prices are now high. One of the best indications as to the future trend of prices is the steadiness of the market around present prices. Cotton is now selling around 10.40 purely on its merits—there is absolutely no organized bull support. For these reasons we continue to believe that cotton can be bought cheap at the present level.

STOCKS—At the opening this morning the market was generally strong and steady. The improved peace outlook was an important factor, and most of the commission houses had accumulated a fair supply of buying orders. These houses were an important feature in the day's trading and exercised sufficient influence to carry the floor traders with them. During the forenoon the market held its strength remarkably well, Reading and Union Pacific being the most active and scoring good gains. The underlying elements seem to be strongly bullish, and on fair recessions most of the issues can be bought for moderate profits.

A BIG THING IN THE HOUSE

IT IS A BIG THING
To cut your coal bills in half.

IT IS A BIG THING
To heat an entire house with no more trouble to care for than an ordinary Grate.

IT IS A BIG THING
To have a Heat better than steam or hot water, with one half the expense.

IT IS A BIG THING
To have a heater that gives you an abundance of fresh, pure, warm air, burning ordinary run of mine soft coal, without any leakage of Gas, soot, or smoke.

IT IS A BIG THING
To have a heater made of the best Locomotive Steel in one piece that has no fire pots to burn out. That is practically indestructible.

IT IS A BIG THING
To be able to say to your tenant or prospective purchaser, that your house is heated with one of Hunnicutt's seamless warm-air Heaters, and that the saving in full will almost pay the rent.

IT IS A BIG THING
For us that we sold six car loads of these heaters last year.

IT IS A BIG THING
To take out a Furnace you have already paid for and put in one of our Seamless. Yet lots of people have done so, and are well pleased, as they have saved from $50 to $100 a year on their coal bills.

IT IS NOT A BIG THING
To drop us a postal and have us to tell you what it will cost you to put in the best, cleanest, Healthiest and most Economical heating plant on earth.

STOCKS OPENED VERY IRREGULAR

Changes Small, but the Dealings Were Large.

In the Last Hour Prices Were Advanced Sharply With Trading Very Active, the Tone at the Close Being Active and Strong.

New York, August 16.—There was a preponderance of gains again today in the movement of prices on the stock exchange, and the stocks affected had more influence by sympathy on the general list than those which moved yesterday. The market, nevertheless, continued spotty and uneven and showed moderate improvement in the volume of the trading. There was a marked decline in animation after the working off of orders accumulated over night in commission houses. The market then relapsed into its professional characted and gave evidence of renewed operations by that element to get up prices here and there to serve as sustaining points while similar measures were extended to other portions of the list. The vitality of rumors regarding the Northern Securities group seems proof against all delays and disappointments. Its renewed influence was seen today in the rise in Union Pacific, which would benefit largely from the enhanced valuation of Great Northern and Northern Pacific. The revived and successful speculation in Reading up to a new record level had a notable effect in encouraging speculative spirits. The diminution in the new yellow fever cases at New Orleans was of cheerful augury for the southern group, which has, however, been singularly indifferent heretofore to the possible harm to earning capacity from the wellow fever outbreak. News from the crops showed no change in the favorable progress in the grain region with the exception of some professed uneasiness over the effect on corn of low temperature and possible frosts in the northern portions of the belt. The rise in the Locomotive stocks had a sustaining effect in the railroad equipment group. The large demand for Amalgamated Copper after its prolonged inertia removed one of the repressive influences on the market, but the United States Steel stocks remained impassive. The argument in favor of low-priced stocks centered its benefit on Chesapeake and Ohio. The market broadened materially in the late trading and closing was distinctly strong.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, $4,160,000.

United States 2s declined ⅛ and the new 4s ¼ per cent on call.

Coffee and Sugar.

New York, August 16.—The market for coffee futures opened steady at an advance of 5 points, which was only a partial response to the firmer French cables. There was continued liquidation of near months, mostly in the shape of exchange for later positions, and in the absence of much fresh demand, prices sagged off during the middle session, in spite of continued light receipts and further reports of damage to the coming crop by frost; closed steady, net unchanged to 5 points higher; sales 94,750 bags; September 7.15; December 7.45; January 7.55@7.60; March 7.70; May 7.80; July 7.90. SHOWERS EXPECTED TODAY.

Two Pretty Days in Succession Were The Best Weather Man Could Do For Atlanta.

Showers for today is the prediction of the weather man for Atlanta and the immediate vicinity. Atlanta seems especially favored from a rain standpoint, as the state forecast for today is fair weather.

Two fair days were about all that Atlanta could secure from the weather, however. Tuesday was a pretty day, but as it had been raining every day few people were able to take advantage of it, not knowing that it would be fair. Yesterday morning and afternoon were pretty enough until about 6 o'clock yesterday, when a shower began.

It may be that the return home of the baseball team has something to do with the threatening weather and the clouding up of the skies.

Last year Abner Powell was about the luckiest man on record in drawing fair weather. The baseball magnates now controlling and owning the Atlanta team have not succeeded so well from a weather standpoint, as day after day it has either rained or kept the crowds away by threatening to rain.

HARVIE JORDAN BEFORE JURY.

Gives Testimony in Case Against Cotton Leak Grafters.

Washington, August 16.—The usual air of secrecy pervaded the court house here today when the grand jury met to continue the inquiry into the cotton leakage cases. A number of witnesses were examined.

With the exception of President Harvie Jordan, of the Southern Cotton Association, they were made up entirely of employees of the agricultural department, most of them having to do with the work of the statistical division.

Nothing could be ascertained as to the probable date of arrival of former Chief Statistician Hyde, who has indicated his desire to state what he knows concerning the work of the statistical division.

It was said that notwithstanding the mass of evidence now in possession of the grand jury, it is the desire of the district attorney to put before them every shred of information obtainable, and that for that reason the investigation had been prolonged so as to permit of the examination of every employee who might be able to throw additional light on the subject.

It was the belief at the court house today that indictments will be returned before the retirement of District Attorney Beach on August 31.

At the conclusion of the session an adjournment until Friday was taken, when it is understood a number of out of town witnesses will give testimony.

A PIEDMONT AVENUE LOT

Is ordinarily hard to buy, because, in the first place, there are very few vacant, and owners, as a rule, do not care to sell, but prefer either to improve or await the certain rise in value.

However, we have one 50x195 feet with alley in rear, nice elevation, beautifully shaded, and near the lovely homes of Messrs. Thad. Hammond, Chas. D. Hill, Howard Callaway, Drs. W. P. Nicholson, L. M. Crichton, and others.

The owner bought it to improve for a home, but has had to change his plans and authorizes us to sell at a downright bargain.

Are you looking for a high-class North-side lot cheap? Then see us.

"WE SELL LOTS."

VULCANITE READY ROOFING

ADVANTAGES OF "Vulcanite" Roofing

Extremely durable. Not affected by heat or cold. Does not stick together in the rolls. Easily affixed. Impregnated and coated with superior damp-proof material (our own special compound), which cannot evaporate. Superior in texture to any similar material. Does not absorb moisture; it cannot therefore be affected by the action of frost, and preserves a close and even surface. Guaranteed to contain no coal tar. Not affected by such destructive acids as Nitric, Sulphuric, Muriatic, etc. Will not dry out or rust. Weather proof, rat proof, fire proof. Thirty-two inches wide, one square to the roll. Can be painted any color. Requires no annual painting. Is permanent and attractive. Is best for all buildings where durability and economy are desired. Ready for use to meet the various demands of a good, permanent roofing at a moderate cost.

Nurserymen in Session.

Norfolk, Va., August 16.—The Southern Nursery Association, which embraces the principal fruit interests south of Baltimore, is in session at the Monticello hotel today. J. Van Lindley, of Pomona, S. C., is president of the association. There are about seventy-five delegates in attendance. Several reports and papers on subjects or interest to the nurserymen were read.

French Demands Declined.

Fez, Morocco, August 16.—The sultan has declined to accede to the demands of the French minister for the payment of an indemnity and the release of the chief of the Algerian settlement at Gharb, who was arrested in consequence of local troubles. The sultan claims jurisdicition over all Algerian settlers in Morocco. The incident may lead to important developments.

Conger Reaches Washington.

Washington, August 16.—Ambassador E. H. Conger arrived in Washington today from Mexico. He had a conference with Acting Secretary Adee at the state department and later made arrangements to visit the president at Oyster Bay. Mr. Conger would not discuss his future plans further than to say that he had no intention of entering politics in Iowa.

Advertising Plus Results.

This is the literal proof of the advertising pudding—to take charge of a concern's business advertising; to produce copy and place it in such a manner as incontestibly increases sales and profits. Here is an example —

"The increase in our business for the past six months would indicate that our advertising has paid us well. Your work has been very satisfactory.

If you have a good proposition, and if you want more business, it is a mathematical certainty that intelligent advertising will bring it.

You simply determine to spend a certain sum of money for a lager sum of profits. Let us give you the benefit of our experience and advice.
